Trainee's Guide for Electronics Administration 1969 describes how managers trainers and trainees can make the use of education and training opportunities on board this title contains information on assessments international rules on certification it takes into account the major revision of the international maritime organisation s standards of training and watchkeeping in 2010

Naval Training Bulletin 1950 the problem addressed by this research is that the existing damage control virtual environment trainer dc vet simulator is deficient in the capability of presenting information about the environment first it lacks facilities for explaining the functions of engineroom equipment such as boilers pumps gauges switches and valves second it lacks a facility to instruct users by a virtual instructor guide the approach taken was to refine the dc vet simulator and increase its immersive interactive shipboard training capability this was accomplished using the jack motion library to create articulated human form entities next scripted actions of a human form instructor guide combined with audio feedback in the form of sound effects and digitized speech via hyper text links instruct the novice user the result of this thesis was the implementation of a virtual ship model where networked users are represented as articulated humans who can see and hear engineering casualties actions of an instructor guide may be scripted by a non programmer using scripts dc vet has the ability to teach a novice the basic functions of boilers pumps gauges switches and valves users can also interact with other networked users and discover functions of boilers and pumps in the engineroom by tagging the equipment it is possible for the novice sailor to learn basic functions of engineering equipment before arriving at his ship in order to develop problem solving abilities the text focuses on the application of skills and techniques that are fundamental to commercial shipping and that meet the demands of the merchant shipping standards of training certification and watchkeeping regulations this will be essential reading for all students and candidates on mca accredited deck training courses and for seafarers wishing to apply for certificates of equivalent competency it is also a key reference for professionals in ship owning and management companies and for maritime lawyers

Guide for Afloat Training, Naval Reserve Fleet Divisions and Selected Reserve Crews 2006 a comprehensive training and reference manual used as a textbook in maritime institutions addresses the prevention control and extinguishing of fires aboard commercial vessels and on offshore drilling rigs includes chapters on emergency procedures and equipment as well as case studies of past shipboard fires generously illustrated with drawings photos diagrams tables and checklists recommended reading for all maritime personnel and kept both in shipboard reference libraries and in the offices of maritime executives

Official Gazette 1960 engaging and informative the unofficial unbiased guide to the 331 most interesting colleges 2005 is a must read reference for every college bound student
