Boethius has long been recognized as one of the most important intermediaries between ancient philosophy and the Latin Middle Ages and through his Consolation of Philosophy as a talented literary writer with a gift for making philosophical ideas dramatic and accessible to a wider public. Anicius Manlius Severinus Boethius, commonly known simply as Boethius (c. 480–524 AD), was a Roman senator, consul, magister officiorum, polymath, historian, and philosopher of the early Middle Ages. Boethius was a prolific Roman scholar of the sixth century AD who played an important role in transmitting Greek science and philosophy to the medieval Latin world. His most influential work is The Consolation of Philosophy (Latin: De consolazione philosophiae), often titled as The Consolation of Philosophy or simply The Consolation. It is a philosophical work by the Roman philosopher Boethius Anicius Manlius Severinus. Boethius was a Roman scholar, Christian philosopher, and statesman, author of the celebrated De consolazione philosophiae (Consolation of Philosophy), a largely Neoplatonic work in which the
