giulio douhet is generally considered the world's most important air power theorist and this book offers the first comprehensive account of his air power concepts it ranges from 1884 when an air service was first implemented within the italian military to the outbreak of the second world war and explores the evolution and dissemination of doubet s ideas in an international context it examines the impact of the libyan war the first world war and ethiopian war on the development of italian air power strategy it also addresses the issue of douhet s advocacy of strategic bombing exploring why it was that douhet became an advocate of city bombing the meaning and the limits of his core concept of command of the air and the mutual impact of air power military and naval thought it also takes into account alternatives to douhetism such as the theories developed by amedeo mecozzi and others an incisive account of how mussolini pioneered populism in reaction to hitler s rise and thereby reinforced his role as a model for later authoritarian leaders on the tenth anniversary of his rise to power in 1932 benito mussolini 1883 1945 seemed to many the good dictator he was the first totalitarian and the first fascist in modern europe but a year later hitler's entrance onto the political stage signaled a german takeover of the fascist ideology in this definitive account eminent historian r j b bosworth charts mussolini s leadership in reaction to hitler bosworth shows how italy s decline in ideological pre eminence as well as in military and diplomatic power led mussolini to pursue a more populist approach angry and bellicose words at home violent aggression abroad and a more extreme emphasis on charisma in his embittered efforts to bolster an increasingly hollow and ruthless regime it was mussolini rather than hitler who offered the model for all subsequent authoritarians this publication offers a critical survey of religious change and its causes in 18th century europe focusing on the enlightenment in italy france and england the text illustrates how the canonical view of 18th century religious change has in reality been constructed upon scant evidence and assumption this book investigates the relationship between the ideas of nation and race among the nationalist intelligentsia of the italian risorgimento and argues that ideas of race played a considerable role in defining italian national identity the author argues that the racialization of the italians dates back to the early napoleonic age and that naturalistic racialism or race thinking based on the taxonomies of the natural history of man emerged well before the traditionally presumed date of the late 1860s and the advent of positivist anthropology the book draws upon a wide number of sources including the work of vincenzo cuoco giuseppe micali adriano balbi alessanro manzoni giandomenico romagnosi cesare balbo vincenzo gioberti and carlo cattaneo themes explored include links to antiquity on the italian peninsula archaeology and race thinking reprint of the original first published in 1856 emblems pictorial designs with accompanying mottoes and epigrams helped to shape virtually every form of verbal and visual communication in the west during the sixteenth and seventh centuries a recent re awakening of scholarly interest in the emblem has brought to light the difficulty of locating and consulting the unorganized mass of available material recognizing the need for a large scale systematic index to the emblem the editor organized a symposium at mcgill publication history is a rapidly expanding scholarly field which has profoundly influenced architectural history in recent years yet while groundbreaking work has been done on architecture and printing in the renaissance the enlightenment and the twentieth century the nineteenth century has received little attention this is the omission that the printed and the built seeks to address thus filling a significant gap in the understanding of architecture's cultural history lavishly illustrated with colourful and eclectic visual material from panoramas to printed ephemera adverts penny magazines early photography and even crime reportage the printed and the built consists of five in depth thematic essays accompanied by 25 short pieces each examining a particular printed form
