thinking childhood and time contemporary perspectives on the politics of education is an interdisciplinary exploration of the notion of childhood and its place in a philosophical education contributors consider children s experiences of time space embodiment and thinking by acknowledging hannah arendt s notion that every child brings a new beginning into the world they address the question of how educators can be more responsive to the otherness that childhood offers while assuming that most educational models follow either a chronological model of child development or view children as human beings that are lacking the contributors explore childhood as a philosophical concept in children adults and even beyond human beings childhood as a forgotten dimension of the world contributors also argue that a pedagogy that does not aim for an exodus of childhood but rather responds to the arrival of a new human being responsibly dialogically fosters a deeper appreciation of the newness that children bring in order to sensitize us for our own childhood as adults as well and allow us to welcome other forms of childhood in the world as a whole this book argues that the experience of natality such as the beginning of life is not chronologically determined but rather can occur more than once in a human life and beyond scholars of philosophy education psychology and childhood studies will find this book particularly useful
