The Disruptors 2018 a fun dazzling exploration of the strange numbers that illuminate the ultimate nature of reality for particularly brilliant theoretical physicists like james clerk maxwell paul dirac or albert einstein the search for mathematical truths led to strange new understandings of the ultimate nature of reality but what are these truths what are the mysterious numbers that explain the universe in fantastic numbers and where to find them the leading theoretical physicist and youtube star antonio padilla takes us on an irreverent cosmic tour of nine of the most extraordinary numbers in physics offering a startling picture of how the universe works these strange numbers include graham's number which is so large that if you thought about it in the wrong way your head would collapse into a singularity tree 3 whose finite nature can never be definitively proved because to do so would take so much time that the universe would experience a poincaré recurrence resetting to precisely the state it currently holds down to the arrangement of individual atoms and  $10^{120}$  measuring the desperately unlikely balance of energy needed to allow the universe to exist for more than just a moment to extend beyond the size of a single atom in other words the mystery of our unexpected universe leading us down the rabbit hole to a deeper understanding of reality padilla explains how these unusual numbers are the key to understanding such mind-boggling phenomena as black holes relativity and the problem of the cosmological constant that the two best and most rigorously tested ways of understanding the universe contradict one another fantastic numbers and where to find them is a combination of popular and cutting edge science and a lively entertaining and even funny exploration of the most fundamental truths about the universe

Countdown 2013-09-24 in this timely and essential book that offers a fresh take on the qualms of modern day life professor alan lightman investigates the creativity born from allowing our minds to freely roam without attempting to accomplish anything and without any assigned tasks we are all worried about wasting time especially in the west we have created a frenzied lifestyle in which the twenty four hours of each day are carved up dissected and reduced down to ten minute units of efficiency we take our iphones and laptops with us on vacation we check email at restaurants or our brokerage accounts while walking in the park when the school day ends our children are overloaded with extras our university curricula are so crammed our young people don't have time to reflect on the material they are supposed to be learning yet in the face of our time driven existence a great deal of evidence suggests there is great value in wasting time of letting the mind lie fallow for some periods of letting minutes and even hours go by without scheduled activities or intended tasks gustav mahler routinely took three or four hour walks after lunch stopping to jot down ideas in his notebook carl jung did his most creative thinking and writing when he visited his country house in his 1949 autobiography albert einstein described how his thinking involved letting his mind roam over many possibilities and making connections between concepts that were previously unconnected with in praise of wasting time professor alan lightman documents the rush and heave of the modern world suggests the technological and cultural origins of our time driven lives and examines the many values of wasting time for replenishing the mind for creative thought and for finding and solidifying the inner self break free from the idea that we must not waste a single second and discover how sometimes the best thing to do is to do nothing at all
