malaysia's population has often been dismissed as partisan maneuvering yet his willingness to countenance a more prominent place for islam in government and society is what distinguished him from other modernist politicians and his instinct to set malaysian politics against the backdrop of the wider muslim world was politically astute. author sven schottnann argues that mahathir's transformative effect on malaysia can only be fully appreciated if we also take him seriously as one of the postcolonial muslim world's most significant political thought leaders. schottnann sees mahathir's representations of islam as a relatively coherent discourse that can legitimately be described as mahathir's islam. this discourse contains mahathir's assessment of the economic, political and sociocultural problems facing the contemporary muslim world and the range of solutions and corrective measures that he proposed. muslims should adopt his ideas, are fraught with flaws and contradictions. on the one hand, he emphasized the individualistic, egalitarian, pluralistic, democratic and dynamic qualities of islam. on the other, his government enacted legislation and acquiesced in the activities of religious bodies that curtailed religious freedoms of both muslims and non muslims. his ideas contributed to malaysia's worsening state of interethnic relations. yet his insistence that every muslim had the right to speak for islam may have paradoxically prepared the ground for a future democratization of malaysian politics. mahathir's islam is based on rigorous analysis of mahathir's speeches, interviews and writings, which the author is able to link to parallel processes elsewhere in the muslim world: indonesia, the middle east, pakistan, turkey and diaspora communities in the west. mahathir's islamic discourse, schottnann suggests, must be read against the wider late twentieth century resurgence of religion in general and the post 1970s islamic revival in particular. balanced in approach and engagingly written, this book will be of interest to scholars and students of political science, religious studies and others interested in malaysia, southeast asia or mahathir himself.

The Rhetoric of Dr. Mahathir Mohamad 2004. The myth of the lazy native is syed hussein alatas' widely acknowledged critique of the colonial construction of malay, filipino and javanese natives from the 16th to the 20th century. Drawing on the work of karl mannheim and the sociology of knowledge, alatas analyses the origins and functions of such myths in the creation and reinforcement of colonial ideology and capitalism. The book constitutes, in his own words, an effort to correct a one-sided colonial view of the asian native and his society and will be of interest to students and scholars of colonialism, post colonialism, sociology and south east asian studies.
