From Master Teacher to Master Learner 2007-06 we live in dangerous times when educational policies and practices are debated largely in terms of how they fit with the needs of the free market this volume is a collection of writing by teacher educators that draws on their unique biographies experiences and perspectives to denounce these misguided norms it explores what it means practically and intellectually to teach for social justice in conservative times in a globalised world where the power of capital holds sway the purposes of social institutions such as universities and schools is being refashioned in ways that are markedly instrumental and technicist in nature the consequence is that teachers work is increasingly constrained by regimes of control such as standardised testing accountability transparency and national curricula in the meantime large numbers of students and teachers are disengaging physically emotionally and intellectually from learning the contributors to this edited volume present both a powerful critique of these developments and a counter hegemonic vision of teacher education founded on the principles and values of social justice democracy and critical inquiry teacher education they argue involves a commitment to critical intellectual work that subjects some deeply entrenched assumptions beliefs habits routines and practices to closer scrutiny the contributing authors expose how ideology and power operate in seemingly blameless rational ways to perpetuate social hierarchies based on class gender sexuality race and culture

Success for Every Student 2017 examining teacher education in an international context this book captures the diversity of the world s educators many countries confront surprisingly similar challenges in preparing k 12 educators for success while national contexts also make for surprising differences in teaching the world s teachers education historians lauren lefty and james w fraser and their contributors make a convincing case for approaching these shared challenges from a more global and historically minded perspective written by education scholars from eleven different countries argentina brazil catalonia spain china england finland ghana israel singapore south africa and the united states this book provides histories of teacher education reforms between roughly 1980 and 2020 the authors show how international trends that emerged during this period collided with national and regional contexts to produce unique teacher education systems in different nations while in some countries the embrace of markets and competition led to a deregulation of the teacher preparation field in others teaching became a highly regulated and centralized affair at the same time ideas and structural models cross borders and education leaders borrow from each other while reshaping plans in each place opening with a broad historical overview of global teacher education models beginning in the late eighteenth century teaching the world s teachers argues that the field has long been characterized by cross border connections but shaped by geopolitical hierarchies of power in an era when teacher quality is widely recognized as one of the most important factors in a child s education this volume encourages dialogue among teacher educators and policymakers around the world by understanding the context and contingency of where we have been the authors hope that readers will walk away with a more empowered sense of where we are headed in the all important task of teaching the world s teachers contributors kwame akyeampong richard andrews azeem badroodien maria inês g f marcondes de souza gustavo e fischman james w fraser guangwei hu arie kizel jari lavonen lauren lefty wei liao jason loh silvana mesquita hannele niemi lily orland barak paula razquin carol anne spreen
