s university language institutes and undergraduate and graduate programs this book features a rich and diverse assortment of personal narratives by students representing countries all over the world the research also revealed the strategies that students report they have used to navigate within a new culture international students share their successes and their failures in this regard in addition they also share their experiences once they return to their homeland and re adjust to life there including what they have learned about themselves and their own values that relate to culture this volume investigates how international students in and from the middle east are constructed by nations institutions other students and themselves making a valuable contribution to understanding the nuances and complexities of educational politics and priorities affecting these constructions the text considers the broader impacts of discourse on internationalisation offering a unique combination of critical analysis of educational policies combined with empirical contributions through authors own research chapters highlight intersections between politics the internationalisation of higher education and the construction of mobile learners emphasising variation and nuance in the internationalisation of policies in the gulf cooperation countries and other middle eastern countries the volume offers a theoretical framework to help understand the political educational and ethical implications of emerging constructions of international students and their comparison across the middle east this timely volume will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in higher education international and comparative education as well as the middle east more specifically those involved with educational education policy and politics specifically related to the middle east will also benefit from this volume in an increasingly globalised educational landscape this book examines whether the principle of educational equality can be applied across nation state borders exploring the tension between the theory of educational equality and the reality that most educational institutions are rooted in local communities and national frameworks the author thus probes the consequences for institutions individuals and communities as the number of international students grows exponentially a topic that has previously received limited attention the author draws upon theoretical literature and an empirical study of how universities in the united kingdom conceptualise and promote principles of educational equality for international as compared with home students this pioneering work will be interest and value to students and scholars of
