Nothing New in Europe? 2021-11-01 a new york times bestseller a read with jenna today show book club pick named a best book of the year by the new york times book review the washington post people entertainment weekly usa today time the a v club buzzfeed and popsugar i can t believe how good this book is it s wholly original it s also perfect wilson writes with such a light touch the brilliance of the novel is that it distracts you with these weirdo characters and mesmerizing and funny sentences and then hits you in a way you didn t see coming you re laughing so hard you don t even realize that you ve suddenly caught fire taffy brodesser akner author of fleishman is in trouble new york times book review from the new york times bestselling author of the family fang a moving and uproarious novel about a woman who finds meaning in her life when she begins caring for two children with a remarkable ability lillian and madison were unlikely roommates and yet inseparable friends at their elite boarding school but then lillian had to leave the school unexpectedly in the wake of a scandal and they ve barely spoken since until now when lillian gets a letter from madison pleading for her help madison s twin stepkids are moving in with her family and she wants lillian to be their caretaker however there s a catch the twins spontaneously combust when they get agitated flames igniting from their skin in a startling but beautiful way lillian is convinced madison is pulling her leg but it s the truth thinking of her dead end life at home the life that has consistently disappointed her lillian figures she has nothing to lose over the course of one humid demanding summer lillian and the twins learn to trust each other and stay cool while also staying out of the way of madison s buttoned up politician husband surprised by her own ingenuity yet unused to the intense feelings of protectiveness she feels for them lillian ultimately begins to accept that she needs these strange children as much as they need her urgently and fiercely couldn t this be the start of the amazing life she d always hoped for with white hot wit and a big tender heart kevin wilson has written his best book yet a most unusual story of parental love

Nothing to See Here 2019-10-29 lance loughton and emery dulman were brought up together at elmerston grammar school they were both in the upper or sixth form but lance was nearly at the head while emery was at the bottom of the form they were general favourites though for different causes lance was decidedly best liked by the masters he was steady persevering and studious besides being generous kind hearted and brave Never ready to defend the weak against the strong while he would never allow a little boy to be bullied by a big one if he could help it emery had talents but they were more showy than solid he was good natured and full of life and spirits and having plenty of money spent it freely he was however easily led and had in consequence done many foolish things which got him into trouble though he managed on the whole to maintain a tolerably good character lance and emery were on friendly terms and lance who thought he saw good qualities in his companion would gladly have won his confidence but emery did not like what he called lance s lectures and there was very little or no interchange of thought between them without it real friendship can scarcely be said to exist they were however looked upon as school friends and certainly lance would at all times have been ready to do a friendly act for emery emery was somewhat of a fine gentleman in his way his father was a tradesman in the place and wished his son to assist him in his business but emery often spoke of entering the army or one of the liberal professions he therefore considered himself equal to those whose fathers held a higher social grade than his own his father s style of life encouraged him in this mr dulman had a handsome house and gave dinners and parties and at elections took a leading part and entertained the proposed member and his friends and indeed sometimes talked of entering parliament himself and altogether did a good deal to excite the envy of his less successful fellow townsmen
