through a close textual analysis and a contrastive examination of documents from both cultures mark glouberman explores the biblical roots of our western sense of self identity and the ways in which non philosophical greek materials enhance our understanding of how that cultural view developed glouberman illustrates how the hebrew scriptures advance a humanist rather than a religious view of human nature he then shows that this same view is germinally present in non philosophical writings of archaic and classical greece finally glouberman argues that the philosophical style of thinking the intellectual basis of greece s contribution to the west is in fact hostile to what the bible teaches about human nature and that central hellenic figures from outside the philosophical mainstream notably homer and sophocles are biblical in orientation each of glouberman s theses lends new depth to contemporary research on the bible as a source of material that illuminates the human condition a novelist poet literary critic and anthropologist andrew lang is best known for his publications on folklore mythology and religion many have grown up with the colour fairy books which he compiled between 1889 and 1910 this three volume set presents a selection of his work in these areas the first volume covers the general and theoretical aspects of lang s work on folklore mythology and anthropology along with the tools and concepts which he used in his often combative contributions to these inter related disciplines collectively the general introduction to the set and the introductions to the individual volumes offer a thorough overview of lang s work in an astonishing variety of fields including his translation work on homer and his contributions to historiography particularly scottish headnotes to the individual items are of varying length and provide more detail on specific topics and explanatory notes supply unique intellectual comment rather than merely factual information

A thousand and one Gems of English poetry, selected and arranged by Charles Mackay 1872 edgar allan poe 1809 1849 is the poet of the night world of the inexplicable the uncanny his poems do not analyse they do not explain they exist with the intensity of hallucinations in the breathtakingly seductive beauty of to helen like those nicéan barks of yore that gently o'er a perfumed sea or the claustrophobic horror of the raven poe offers haunting alternative realities as strange and strangely familiar as our dreams and nightmares yet poe was more than a poet of american gothic he was translated by baudelaire and mallarmé becoming a key figure in french symbolism he was an influential critic this edition contains all poe's poetry and his three most important essays with an introduction by the poet c h sisson it is an indispensable collection of the work of one of the nineteenth century's most compelling and original poets what was it like to be charles dickens his letters are the nearest we can get to a dickens autobiography vivid close up snapshots of a life lived at maximum intensity this is the first selection to be made from the magisterial twelve volume british academy pilgrim edition of his letters from over fourteen thousand four hundred and fifty have been cherry picked to give readers the best essence of the sparkler of albion dickens was a man with ten times the energy of ordinary mortals there seem to have been twice the number of hours in his day and he threw himself into letter writing as he did into everything else this eagerly awaited selection takes us straight to the heart of his life to show us dickens at first hand here he is writing out of the heat of the moment as a novelist journalist and magazine editor as a social campaigner and traveller in europe and america and as friend lover husband and father reading and writing letters punctuated the rhythms of dickens s day i walk about brimful of letters he told a friend he claimed to write at the least a dozen a day sometimes it was a chore but more often a pleasure an outlet for high spirits sparkling wit and caustic commentary always as seen through his highly individual and acutely observing eye whether you dip in or read straight through this selection of his letters creates afresh the brilliance of being dickens and the sheer pleasure of being in his company
