contributed articles with salman rushdie arundhati roy jhumpa lahiri v s naipaul and kiran desai winning prestigious awards for their literary output indian english literature has gained a voice of its own yet as most readers of criticism of it agree there is a dearth of serious examination of its authors and their work this collection of essays attempts a contrapuntal reading of indian english literature with what ranjan ghosh calls the infusionist approach since a majority of readers are made to stay away from a branded author or work this book rejects any categorization such as postcolonial or commonwealth it deals with a wide range of issues which human beings suffer from all over the world including those that may not have anything to do with the politicized side of the postcolonial or the commonwealth the greek menander said that they whom the gods love die young and many have been the inheritors of unfulfilled renown perhaps none of them was so unique as toru dutt frail and delicate since birth brought up by a doting father who lavished every care and attention on her born in a hindu family but converted early to christianity fed on hindu myths and legends acquired both through books and through oral tradition educated in europe and longing to return to england attracted towards the end of her life by sanskrit and devoting weary hours to its grammatical intricacies writing in french and english but not in her mother tongue publishing works in both these languages leaving behind with those who knew her the fragrant memory of an exceedingly charming personality dying before she was twenty two toru dutt is one of the most poignant examples of those who before their proper time pass through the door of darkness indian poetry in english began with the imitation of english romantic poets but gradually indo anglian poets began to write on indian themes based on indian contexts and indian social scenario indo anglian poetry has received world recognition and some of the poets are held in high esteem this anthology containing 35 essays is an attempt to represent the gamut of indian poetry in english both pre independence and post independence from diverse critical perspectives the thirteen poets covered in this anthology include michael madhusudan dutt toru dutt rabindranath tagore sarojini naidu nissim ezeiel a k ramanujan and kamala das the essays in the book offer innovative perspectives and touch upon different aspects of indian poetry in english the tone of the essays varies from personal to argumentative to objectively discursive the book with diverse and thought provoking essays will be highly useful for undergraduate and postgraduate students of english literature besides those who are interested to know about indian poetry in english will find the book quite illuminating and interesting the book is based on the uniform pattern of syllabus for m a in english for indian universities prescribed by the ugc it is comprehensive and covers the entire history of british literature it also includes exhaustive material on american literature commonwealth literature and indian writing in english there is a useful section on classics of world literature too it will cater to the need of postgraduate students and scholars as well as anyone preparing for competitive examinations like net jrf slet and had a selected readership were known unto themselves in academic circles if they were widely published but were looked down upon with a kind of derision by regional writers however the scenario has changed now from english being spurned as a colonizer's tongue that was nobody's language it has now become everybody's language with english medium schools english movies ads soaps and serials for a generation living in a global village genuine readership and appreciation of english poetry is no longer an encumbrance this book in its second edition continues to educate the students with diverse and thought provoking essays that vary from personal to argumentative to objectively discursive english literature and to those who are genuinely interested in indian english poetry the fourteen poets selected in this anthology are michael madhusudan dutt toru dutt rabindranath tagore aurobindo ghosh sarojini naidu jibanananda das nissim ezeiel jayanta mahapatra a k ramanujan arun kolatkar rajagopal parthasarathy kamala das and dilip chitre the poets included are all on the syllabi of major universities in india my book traces the significant poetic and political contributions made by non canonical women poets situating women's poetry both in colonial australian print culture and in wider imperial and transnational contexts women poets in colonial australia have tended to be represented as marginal and isolated figures or absent this study intervenes by demonstrating an alternative networked tradition of transnational feminist poetics and politics beyond and around emergent masculine nationalism particularly within newspapers and periodical print culture without the inclusion of periodical literature women's poetry in australia during the colonial period would appear to have been fairly limited when periodical literature is taken into account this picture is radically altered and poets emerge as consistent contributors often across a variety of newspapers and journals who were well known influential and connected with political figures and literary circles in examining this poetry in the original context of the newspapers and journals the political intervention and the reception of that poetry is made much more apparent akashvani english is a programme journal of all india radio it was formerly known as the indian listener it used to serve the listener as a bradshaw of broadcasting and give listener the useful information in an interesting manner about programmes who writes them take part in them and produce them along with photographs of colonial english studies in india indian english literature refers to the body of work by writers in india who write in the english language and whose native or co native language could be one of the numerous languages of india its early history began with the works of various indian writers who consolidated indian literature it is also associated with the works of members of the indian diaspora such as v s naipaul kiran desai jhumpa lahiri agha shahid ali rohinton mistry and salman rushdie who are of indian descent it is frequently referred to as indo anglian literature as a category this production comes in the broader realm of post colonial literature the production from previously colonized countries like india indian literature refers to the literature produced on indian sub continent until 1947 and in the republic of india thereafter at the same time we must recognize the individual talents of the present age who for reasons other than literary merits are relegated to the periphery it is full of revelations as we discovered poets and novelists of the 19th century from this region of india that is generally considered barren in indian literature in english global and cosmopolitan since the late nineteenth century anglophone south asian women s writing has flourished in many genres and locations encompassing diverse works linked by issues of language geography history culture gender and literary tradition whether writing in the homeland or in the diaspora authors offer representations of social struggle and inequality while articulating possibilities for resistance in this volume experienced instructors attend to the style and aesthetics of the texts as well as provide necessary background for students essays address historical and political contexts including colonialism partition migration ecological concerns and evolving gender roles and consider both traditional and contemporary genres such as graphic novels chick lit and instapoetry presenting ideas for courses in asian studies women s studies postcolonial literature and world literature this book asks broadly what it means to study anglophone south asian women s writing in the united states in asia and around the world in recent years the indian english literature has made conspicuous progress in all its forms mainly in fiction and poetry the present anthology aims at presenting an in depth study of nineteen authors who are both established as well as upcoming writers toru dutt nissim ezeziel jayanta mahapatra r c shukla rajendra singh mulk raj anand kamala markandaya amitav ghosh arundhati roy shashi tharoor shiv k kumar shobha de intizar husain and mahesh dattani although the present anthology contains articles on indian english poetry fiction and drama but fiction enjoys a prominent place since most of the authors included in the present volume for discussion are prescribed in the english syllabus in the various indian universities it is hoped that both the teachers and students will find the book extremely useful even the general readers who are interested in literature in english will find it intellectually stimulating the jasper series has been especially designed as per the latest guidelines provided in the national education policy the books are designed to expose learners to real life situations enabling them to experience and respond to language in different scenarios the series aims at the development of communicative proficiency through a graded syllabus of structural patterns and the rich and varied contexts of english literature a new historical approach to indian english literature mary ellis gibson shows that poetry not fiction was the dominant literary genre of indian writing in english until 1860 and that poetry written in colonial situations can tell us as much or even more about figuration multilingual literacies and histories of nationalism than novels can gibson re creates the historical webs of affiliation and resistance that were experienced by writers in colonial india writers of british indian and mixed ethnicities advancing new theoretical and historical paradigms for reading colonial literatures indian angles makes accessible many writers heretofore neglected or virtually unknown gibson recovers texts by british women by nonelite british men and by persons who would in the nineteenth century have been called eurasian her work traces the mutually constitutive history of english language poets from sir william jones to toru dutt and rabindranath tagore drawing on contemporary postcolonial theory her work also provides new ways of thinking about british internal colonialism as its results were exported to south asia in lucid and accessible prose gibson presents a new theoretical approach to colonial and postcolonial literatures this anthology is a wide ranging collection of 83 poems the poets include derozio michael madhusudan dutt toru dutt harindranath chattopadhyaya nissim ezeziel pritish nandy and p lal notes on the poets accompany the text this is the first comprehensive anthology of english verse written by indians compiled and edited by one who himself was a poet and a critic of distinction such a volume is of considerable historical value and contemporary interest for english has been for more than 150 years and continues to be a vehicle of creative expression for many of our poets and writers the anthology includes selections from 108 poets from derozio and toru dutt of the last century to a k ramanujan and kamala das of the recent times inclusive cutting edge essay collection by leading scholars on victorian women poets and their diverse poetic forms and identities the result of extensive archival recovery work ellen brinks s study fills a significant gap in our understanding of women s literary history of the south asian subcontinent under colonialism and of indian women s contributions and responses to developing cultural and political nationalism as brinks shows the invisibility of anglophone indian women writers cannot be explained simply as a matter of colonial marginalization or as a function of dominant theoretical approaches that reduce indian women to the status of figures or tropes the received narrative that british imperialism in india was perpetuated with little cultural contact between the colonizers and the colonized population is complicated by writers such as toru dutt krupabai satthianadhan pandita ramabai cornelia sorabji and sarojini naidu all five women found large audiences for their literary works in india and in great britain and all five were also deeply rooted in and connected to both south asian and western cultures their works created new zones of cultural contact and exchange that challenge postcolonial theory s tendencies towards abstract notions of the colonized women as passive and of english as a de facto instrument of cultural domination brinks s close readings of these texts suggest new ways of reading a range of issues central to postcolonial studies the relationship of colonized women to the metropolitan literary culture indian and english women s separate and joint engagements in reformist and nationalist struggles the translatability of culture the articulation strategies and complex negotiations of self identification of anglophone indian women writers and the significance and place of cultural difference gibson english and gender studies u of north carolina at greensboro collects and introduces the works of 34 poets writing in english in colonial india from 1780 to 1913 the long 19th century the majority of poets are unsurprisingly of british origin but the works of a number of native indian poets are included as well nobel winner rabindranath tagore perhaps the most notable of them gibson includes notes on vocabulary and historical and cultural references and includes biographical introductions for the poets annotation 2011 book news inc portland or booknews com toru dutt 1856 1877 indian english arun kolatkar and suniti namjoshi a lesser known figure all symbolising the hopes and aspirations of modern india there is also a chapter on irony as technique in some new indo english poets an index has been given at the end of the volume to guide readers through it most of these papers have already appeared in different magazines periodicals and books but putting them together here in book form enhances their accessibility and demonstrates a sense of commitment on the part of the author to the cause of fast expanding indian writing in english talking metaphorically or obliquely is generally held to be natural with indians indian writers in english are primarily concerned with reality as experienced in india that is perhaps their major preoccupation the author has collected and categorized here different types of similes and metaphors mainly from indo english fiction a brief note on imagery in indo english poetry has been added in the past few years there has been an upsurge of interest in indo english writing however no full length study on imagery has yet appeared for these writers imagery has been an important vehicle of perception brings together some of the best writers and thinkers on indian literature in english from rudyard

Anthology Of Indian English Poetry 2016-04-15 the result of extensive archival recovery work ellen brinks s study fills a significant gap in our understanding of women s literary history of the south asian subcontinent under colonialism and of indian women s contributions and responses to developing cultural and political nationalism as brinks shows the invisibility of anglophone indian women writers cannot be explained simply as a matter of colonial marginalization or as a function of dominant theoretical approaches that reduce indian women to the status of figures or tropes the received narrative that british imperialism in india was perpetuated with little cultural contact between the colonizers and the colonized population is complicated by writers such as toru dutt krupabai saththianadhan pandita ramabai cornelia sorabji and sarojini naidu all five women found large audiences for their literary works in india and in great britain and all five were also deeply rooted in and connected to both south asian and western cultures their works created new zones of cultural contact and exchange that challenge postcolonial theory s tendencies towards abstract notions of the colonized women as passive and of english as a de facto instrument of cultural domination brinks s close readings of these texts suggest new ways of reading a range of issues central to postcolonial studies the relationship of colonized women to the metropolitan literary culture indian and english women s separate and joint engagements in reformist and nationalist struggles the translatability of culture the articulation strategies and complex negotiations of self identification of anglophone indian women writers and the significance and place of cultural difference
