2013-01-18 this is an unusual exploration into india s timeless civilization by an enthropologist who has devoted six years to extensive survey of the peasant potters of more than half of india the author of this book writes professor n k bose has applied some methods in the study of indian culture which have not been used by any other student of cultural anthropology in this country his method of correlation of material culture with the total cultural system marks a departure from the conventional studies of cultural processes he has suggested new methods of reconstructing history and his data on contemporary pottery making afford a reassessment of indian archaeological materials the author s extensive experience with inter disciplinary inquiry yields insight from a detailed analysis of the ethnographic data on pottery making he makes some significant observations there is continuity in potter craft tradition in india traceable from the pre historic times the survival of the ethnic groups of potters well within their respective technological zones of pre historic pottery making makes the aryanization of india doubtful different regions of india have evolved their own indigenous cultures providing extreme diversity to the material base of indian society their unity lies in the basic philosophy of life in the higher forms of culture to an average indian the diversity of cultures food dress language worship does not really matter so long as he believes that every way of life has its own contribution to humanity and that before the inexorable law of nature every being has an equal right to survive through the full course of its cosmic life this idealization of diversity has helped india develop a tradition of tolerance which is the soul of her civilization apart from its contribution to anthropology the book will be of particular interest to historians of culture and philosophers of social history

Language in Indenture 2018-09-14 the story of my life essentially focuses on how politics destroyed an assiduously built industrial empire how i fought a long but unsuccessful legal battle for getting my textile mills back and how i eventually succeeded in reinventing life in the very industry i always loved the origin of the house of jaipurias dates back to 1914 when my father seth mungturamji jaipuria left our native town of nawalgarh in rajasthan to travel to kolkata earlier calcutta which was then india s industrial and commercial hub and had been its official capital till 1911 delhi then acquired that privilege i have tried to explain the evolution of the jaipuria group as well as of the indian textile industry in as lucid a manner as i could i hope the young entrepreneurs as well as the students of management apart from the public at large would find my narrative educative and if i may say so inspiring i hope this book would not only help the younger generation understand india s industrial history and the roots of its own entrepreneurial abilities but would also inspire some of the few remaining entrepreneurs of my generation to record their life histories and share their rich experience besides warning present and future governments about the dangers of unnecessary meddling in affairs of industry and trade

A Woman of Substance 2005 rural to urban migration has become an integral character of developing economies sources of livelihoods and earnings in rural households are no longer confined to agriculture and are increasingly being diversified through migration of family one or more member within and beyond national boundaries migration is not a new phenomenon in india rather country has a long history of migration which has played an important role in its social history development and growth and culture this study of the nature and determinants of male out migration from rural up focusing on six villages in jaunpur district started with an observation that despite high male out migration from rural up little attention has been given to understand the dynamics and process of migration in rural up although migration has become the most opted strategy of diversification of livelihoods for rural households in up literature on it remains scarce literature on migration and its link with social groups are also scarce for up the work started with the proposition that migration is a risk and income diversification strategy nelm approach by rural households in up along with linkages between migration and social group there is also a dearth of literature on migration as a risk diversification strategy in up using primary data from the case study district of jaunpur in eastern up india firstly a survey in the origin was carried out and then migrants from the same households were tracked and interviewed at their respective destinations contents chapter 1 introduction chapter 2 research methodology database and area of the study chapter 3 context and drivers of male out migration from uttar pradesh state level insights from nss data chapter 5 is migration risk and income diversification nelm strategy for rural households in uttar pradesh chapter 6 migrants perspectives and experiences at destination chapter 7 conclusion references
