The Cinema of Wang Bing 2023-11-02

having made documentary films screened at the most prestigious film festivals in the west chinese documentary filmmaker wang bing presents a unique case of independent filmmaking in the cinema of wang bing bruno lessard examines the documentarian s most important films focusing on the two obsessions at the heart of his oeuvre the legacy of maoist china in the present and the transformation of labor since china s entry into the market economy and how the crucial figures of survivor and worker are represented on screen bruno lessard argues that wang bing is a minjian grassroots intellectual whose films document the impact of mao s great leap forward on chinese collective memory and register the repercussions of china s turn to neoliberalism on workers in the post reform era bringing together chinese documentary studies and china studies the author shows how wang bing s practice reflects the minjian ethos when documenting the survivors of the great famine and those who have not benefitted from china s neoliberal policies from laid off workers to migrant workers the films discussed include some of wang bing s most celebrated works such as west of the tracks and dead souls as well as neglected documentaries such as coal money and bitter money bruno lessard analyzes wang bing s documentary masterpieces through the twin lens of history and labor incisively framing them as a sustained critical intervention in how china understands itself through the legacy of maoism and deng xiaoping s neoliberal reform project the cinema of wang bing makes me want to watch the films again chris berry king s college london professor lessard offers an original and comprehensive study of wang bing s contribution to chinese documentary as a mode of observation and reflection on some of the most crucial periods of china s recent and present history i certainly felt that reading the films through a sociohistorical approach produced a more vibrant understanding of wang bing s oeuvre cecília mello university of são paulo the huang di nei jing su wen known familiarly as the su wen is a seminal text of ancient chinese medicine yet until now there has been no comprehensive detailed analysis of its development and contents at last paul u unschuld offers entry into this still vital artifact of china's cultural and intellectual past unschuld traces the history of the su wen to its origins in the final centuries b c e when numerous authors wrote short medical essays to explain the foundations of human health and illness on the basis of the newly developed vessel theory he examines the meaning of the title and the way the work has been received throughout chinese medical history both before and after the eleventh century when the text as it is known today emerged unschuld's survey of the contents includes illuminating discussions of the yin yang and five agents doctrines the perception of the human body and its organs qi and blood pathogenic agents concepts of disease and diagnosis and a variety of therapies including the new technique of acupuncture an extensive appendix furthermore offers a detailed introduction to the complicated climatological theories of wu yun liu qi five periods and six qi which were added to the su wen by wang bing in the tang era in an epilogue unschuld writes about the break with tradition and innovative style of thought represented by the su wen for the first time health care took the form of medicine in that it focused on environmental conditions climatic agents and behavior as causal in the emergence of disease and on the importance of natural laws in explaining illness unschuld points out that much of what we surmise about the human organism is simply a projection reflecting dominant values and social goals and he constructs a hypothesis to explain the formation and acceptance of basic notions of health and disease in a given society reading the su wen he says not only offers a better understanding of the roots of chinese medicine as an integrated aspect of chinese civilization it also provides a much needed starting point for discussions of the differences and parallels between european and chinese ways of dealing with illness and the risk of early death aby warburg s mnemosyne atlas 1925 1929 is a prescient work of mixed media assemblage made up of hundreds of images culled from antiquity to the renaissance and arranged into startling juxtapositions warburg s allusive atlas sought to illuminate the pains of his final years after he had suffered a breakdown and been institutionalized it continues to influence contemporary artists today including gerhard richter and mark dion in this illustrated exploration of warburg and his great work georges didi huberman leaps from mnemosyne atlas into a set of musings on the relation between suffering and knowledge in western thought and on the creative results of associative thinking deploying writing that delights in dramatic jump cuts reminiscent of warburg s idiosyncratic juxtapositions and drawing on a set of sources that ranges from ancient babylon to walter benjamin atlas or the anxious gay science is rich in didi huberman s trademark combination of elan and insight
