1847. The poll for the knights of the shire, to represent the western division of the county of Kent 1847 from the author of cider with rosie village christmas is a moving lyrical portrait of england through the changing years and seasons laurie lee left his childhood home in the cotswolds when he was nineteen but it remained with him throughout his life until many years later he returned for good this collection brings to life the sights sounds landscapes and traditions of his home from centuries old may day rituals to his own patch of garden from carol singing in crunching snow to pub conversations and songs here too he writes about the mysteries of love living in wartime chelsea winston churchill s wintry funeral and his battle in old age to save his beloved slad valley from developers told with a warm sense of humour and a powerful sense of history village christmas brings us a picture of a vanished world

1859. The poll for two knights of the shire to represent the western division of the county of Kent. Compiled by T.N. Roberts

1859 spanning three centuries and two countries ladies of the shire weaves together the lives of eight individuals on their unforgettable epic journey from the hay meadows of leicestershire england to the mud and bloody artistry of 1914 18 france from these trenches rises a retribution that will claim all they hold precious demanding a sacrifice none ever thought would be asked of them

1835. The Poll for the Knights of the Shire to represent the Western Division of ... Kent, etc 1835 few settings in literature are as widely known or celebrated as j r r tolkien s middle earth the natural landscape plays a major role in nearly all of tolkien s major works and readers have come to view the geography of this fictional universe as integral to understanding and enjoying tolkien s works and in laying out this continent tolkien paid special attention to its plant life in total over 160 plants are explicitly mentioned and described as a part of middle earth nearly all of these plants are real species and many of the fictional plants are based on scientifically grounded botanic principles in flora of middle earth plants of tolkien s legendarium botanist walter judd gives a detailed species account of every plant found in tolkien s universe complete with the etymology of the plant s name a discussion of its significance within tolkien s work a description of the plant s distribution and ecology and an original hand drawn illustration by artist graham judd in the style of a woodcut print among the over three thousand vascular plants tolkien would have seen in the british isles the authors show why tolkien may have selected certain plants for inclusion in his universe over others in terms of their botanic properties and traditional uses the clear comprehensive alphabetical listing of each species along with the visual identification key of the plant drawings adds to the reader's understanding and appreciation of the tolkien canon

The Poll for the Knights of the Shire to Represent the Eastern Division of ... Kent ... July, 1852, Etc 1852 do the crises in our world worry you the pollution the violence the corruption the apathy have you ever wished you could escape step through a mirror directly into middle earth steve bivans in his book be a hobbit save the earth argues that we are already there he examines the problems facing mankind and our planet today through the lens of tolkien's world and the war of the ring the similarities are all around you and the struggle is indeed very real middle earth faced destruction at the hands of sauron and saruman our world is under attack from the metaphorical two towers ignorance fear and poverty greed sarumanic corporate capitalism threatens to control and poison our agriculture education systems governments and our common property both real and cultural worst of all our sense of humanity and hospitality is being sapped and despoiled if left to continue unabated the modern saurons and sarumans will devour the basic resources essential to our survival the water soil and the very air we breathe our world has lost its shireness be a hobbit save the earth is a guide to bringing our shireness back from the bottom up one hobbit one home and one shire at a time steve bivans draws positive lessons from tolkien's works as a metaphorical map a guide for reconnecting communities and rebuilding them into sustainable modern shires while our modern challenges seem complicated nearly impossible the solutions are really quite simple the first step on that journey is a change of mind a transformation from modern humans into modern hobbits only with this new way of thinking can we begin to clean up our scoured shires the damage done to our food supply to our environment to our communities and to our political systems will that be easy no it will not after all realizing that the one ring must be destroyed was a simple concept one that even a rustic hobbit like frodo baggins could understand carrying it all the way to mordor to accomplish the mission was another matter so was cleaning up the shire when he and his companions returned home such it is for us the situation for our planet is dire mordor is at the door and the black riders are burning our shires what will you do will you destroy the ring or will you hang on to your precioussss do you have to move to the country and live in a hole in the ground absolutely not moving isn't necessary instead we need to bring nature into our minds and into those spaces we call home we must change our story we need to remember that we are part of nature not nature s masters we need to return to harmony with nature and with each other to become what humans were destined to be builders of gardens and shires as hobbits not masters over creatures great and small you can be a hobbit anywhere even in a condo in the middle of a city so buy the book read it tell everyone you know about it then be a hobbit and save the earth
