the pamphlet here presented to the reader was written in the spring of 1916 in zurich in the conditions in which i was obliged to work there i naturally suffered somewhat from a shortage of french and english literature and from a serious dearth of russian literature however i made use of the principal english work on imperialism the book by j a hobson with all the care that in my opinion work deserves this pamphlet was written with an eye to the tsarist censorship hence i was not only forced to confine myself strictly to an exclusively theoretical specifically economic analysis of facts but to formulate the few necessary observations on politics with extreme caution by hints in an allegorical language in that accursed aesopian language to which tsarism compelled all revolutionaries to have recourse whenever they took up the pen to write a legal work it is painful in these days of liberty to re-read the passages of the pamphlet which have been distorted cramped compressed in an iron vice on account of the censor that the period of imperialism is the eve of the socialist revolution that social chauvinism socialism in words chauvinism in deeds is the utter betrayal of socialism complete desertion to the side of the bourgeoisie that this split in the working class movement is bound up with the objective conditions of imperialism etc on these matters i had to speak in a slavish tongue and i must refer the reader who is interested in the subject to the articles i wrote abroad in 1914 17 a new edition of which is soon to appear in order to show the reader in a guise acceptable to the censors how shamelessly untruthful the capitalists and the social chauvinists who have deserted to their side and whom kautsky opposes so inconsistently are on the question of annexations in order to show how shamelessly they screen the annexations of their capitalists i was forced to quote as an example japan the careful reader will easily substitute russia for japan and finland poland courland the ukraine khiva bokhara estonia or other regions peopled by non great russians for korea i trust that this pamphlet will help the reader to understand the fundamental economic question that of the economic essence of imperialism for unless this is studied it will be impossible to understand and appraise modern war and modern politics how did western imperialism shape the developing world in imperialism and the developing world atul kohli tackles this question by analyzing british and american influence on asia africa the middle east and latin america from the age of the british east india company to the most recent u s war in iraq he argues that both britain and the u s expanded to enhance their national economic prosperity and shows how anglo american expansionism hurt economic development in poor parts of the world to clarify the causes and consequences of modern imperialism kohli first explains that there are two kinds of empires and analyzes the dynamics of both imperialism can refer to a formal colonial empire such as britain in the 19th century or an informal empire wielding significant influence but not territorial control such as the u s in the 20th century kohli contends that both have repeatedly undermined the prospects of steady economic progress in the global periphery though to different degrees time and again the pursuit of their own national economic prosperity led britain and the u s to expand into peripheral areas of the world limiting the sovereignty of other states and poor and weak states on the periphery in particular was the main method of imperialism for the british and american empires this tactic ensured that peripheral economies would stay open and accessible to anglo american economic interests loss of sovereignty however greatly hurt the life chances of people living in asia the middle east africa and latin america as kohli lays bare sovereignty is an economic asset it is a precondition for the emergence of states that can foster prosperous and inclusive industrial societies winner of the first paul a baran paul m sweezy memorial award for an original monograph concerned with the political economy of imperialism john smith's imperialism in the twenty first century is a seminal examination of the relationship between the core capitalist countries and the rest of the world in the age of neoliberal globalization deploying a sophisticated marxist methodology smith begins by tracing the production of certain iconic commodities the t shirt the cup of coffee and the iphone and demonstrates how these generate enormous outflows of money from the countries of the global south to transnational corporations headquartered in the core capitalist nations of the global north from there smith draws on his empirical findings to powerfully theorize the current shape of imperialism he argues that the core capitalist countries need no longer rely on military force and colonialism although these still occur but increasingly are able to extract profits from workers in the global south through market mechanisms and by aggressively favoring places with lower wages the phenomenon of labor arbitrage meticulously researched and forcefully argued imperialism in the twenty first century is a major contribution to the theorization and critique of global capitalism
