and other live performance the entries analyze each topic or person s significance in and relevance to american popular culture in addition to basic factual information readers will gain perspective on the cultural context in which the topic or person has importance the twelfth century french poet chrétien de troyes is a major figure in european literature his courtly romances fathered the arthurian tradition and influenced countless other poets in england as well as on the continent yet because of the difficulty of capturing his swift moving style in translation english speaking audiences are largely unfamiliar with the pleasures of reading his poems now for the first time an experienced translator of medieval verse who is himself a poet provides a translation of chrétien s major poem yvain in verse that fully and satisfyingly captures the movement the sense and the spirit of the old french original yvain is a courtly romance with a moral tenor it is ironic and sometimes bawdy the poetry is crisp and vivid in addition the psychological and the socio historical perceptions of the poem are of profound literary and historical importance for it evokes the emotions and the values of a flourishing vibrant medieval past kumba africa is a compilation of african short stories written as fiction by sampson ejike odum nostalgically taking our memory back several thousands of years ago in africa reminding us about our past heritage it digs deep into the traditional life style of the africans of old their beliefs their leadership their courage their culture their wars their defeat and their victories long before the emergence of the white man on the soil of africa as a talented writer of rich resource and superior creativity armed with in depth knowledge of different cultures and traditions in africa the author throws light on the rich cultural heritage of the people of africa when civilization was yet unknown to the people the book reminds the readers that the africans of old kept their pride and still enjoyed their own lives they celebrated victories when wars were won enjoyed their new yam festivals and villages engaged themselves in seasonal wrestling contest etc early morning during harmattan season they gathered firewood and made fire inside their small huts to hit up their bodies from the chilling cold of the harmattan that was the africa of old we will always remember in africa today the story have changed the people now enjoy civilized cultures made possible by the influence of the white man through his scientific and technological process yet there are some uncivilized places in africa whose people haven t tested or felt the impact of civilization these people still maintain their ancient traditions and culture in everything we believe that days when people paraded barefooted in africa to the swamp to tap palm wine and fetch firewood from there farms are almost fading away the huts are now gradually been replaced with houses built of blocks and beautiful roofs thanks to modern civilization donkeys and camels are no longer used for carrying heavy loads for merchants they are now been replaced by heavy trucks and lorries african traditional methods of healing are now been substituted by hospitals in all these i will always love and remember africa the home of my birth and must respect her cultures and traditions as an african woman is a poetry collection by loren jakobov written in response to her friends tragic death in 2015 as a victim of rape and murder the poems discuss the world from the eyes of a woman the pain and the beauty that lies therein almost all low and middle income postcolonial countries now use english or another dominant language as the medium of instruction for some if not all of the basic education cycle much of the literature about language in education in such countries has focused on the instrumentalist value of english on one side and the rights of learners to high quality mother tongue based education on the other the polarised nature of the debate has tended to leave issues related to the processes of learning in english as a medium instruction emi classrooms under researched this book aims to provide a greater understanding of the existing challenges for learners and educators and potential strategies that can support more effective teaching and learning in emi classrooms contributions illustrate the impact that learning in english has on learners in a range of regional national and local contexts and put forward theoretical and empirical analyses to support more relevant and inclusive educational policies this volume was originally published as a special issue of comparative education conley offers an investigation into our culture of obsession and requires us to consider the grave ramifications of our branded world imagine that you are living in a country that does not recognize you as a citizen in spite of the fact that your people have maintained a continuous existence there for several centuries if that was not enough of a traumatic experience consider that because of your racial ethnic and religious identity other ethnic groups that are fighting the brutal military regime in your country for their self determination and human rights consider you as settlers from a neighboring country it must be your worst nightmare when you realize that half of your people almost 2 million have been forced to take asylum or refuge outside and you may be the next in line to seek a way out of this living hell of xenophobia discrimination intolerance racism and bigotry the victims are the rohingya people of burma myanmar because of their religion race ethnicity color and language they are the most discriminated and persecuted people in our planet some argue that they are also one of the most forgotten the myanmar military regime has denied their citizenship rights claiming that they are illegal settlers from nearby bangladesh who have moved into arakan during the british occupation of burma in the 19th century is there any truth to such allegations does the military junta apply the same litmus test against all ethnic and religious groups in matters of citizenship what is the basis for a nation s claim to self determination must a people wander in the wilderness for two millennia and suffer repeated persecution humiliation and genocide to qualify how about the rights of a minority community to survive with their culture and traditions intact do they need to be children of a higher god to qualify what makes the children of a lesser god to be forgotten and denied the same treatment and privilege that was granted hitherto to other nations for much of its history burma has been ruled by military as has once again been demonstrated recently they are brutal savage and tyrannical they have ignored people s verdict in the election and imprisoned leaders and workers of the democracy movement they cannot be

guarantors or protectors of human rights of anyone let alone religious and ethnic minorities do you know that the rohingyas face cruel restriction on marriage and those married without government authorization are paraded naked on the streets are restricted from traveling outside their villages have no legal right to own land or property are restricted from getting education finding work getting medical and health care are subjected to land confiscation forced eviction and destruction of homes offices schools mosques shops etc and face religious persecution on a daily basis are victims of staged riots forced starvation arbitrary taxation extortion arrest torture and extra judicial killings are forced to do slave labor for establishment of government infrastructure new buddhist settlements pagodas and monasteries on evicted lands with the government intent of changing the landscape and demography of arakan are forced to convert to buddhism or worship buddha do you know that when it comes to the rohingya people the burmese government doesn't uphold any of the articles of the universal declaration of human rights nothing can excuse us from the criminal silence that we practice in not voicing our concern about the plight of the rohingya people the forgotten rohingya makes a strong case for mobilizing concerned citizens of our globe to ease their sufferings the author analyzes origin of the rohingya people and offers ideas to solve their problem the author also discusses problems of xenophobia and racism which are so rampant in this country of many races ethnicities and religions he also analyzes the role of daw suu kyi and failure of burma's orange revolution the essays in this book lay bare the dynamics of cultural confrontation between europe and the mediterranean world from medieval to modern times the concept of branding is one of the most important familiar and useful in modern commerce and marketing one important feature of branding in commerce and marketing is the fresh look at branding architecture i.e. alternative brand naming strategies along with proposals for making brand structuring and interpretation more coherent this book dissects some vexing conceptual and even semantic issues surrounding the venerable word brand itself and explores the usefulness of the conception of branding jessica martin is not a nice girl as prom
