place plays a fundamental role in the structuring of the discipline of art history and yet place also limits the questions art historians can ask and impairs analysis of objects and locations in the interstices of established ossified categories the chapters in this interdisciplinary volume investigate place in all of its dynamism and complexity several call into question traditional constructions regarding place in art history while others explore the fundamental role that place plays in lived experience the particular nexus for this collection lies at the intersection and overlap of two major subfields in the history of art south asia and the islamic world both of which are seemingly geographically determined yet at the same time uncategorizable as place with their ever shifting and contested borders the eleven chapters brought together here move from the early modern through to the contemporary and span particular monuments and locations ranging from asia and europe to africa and the americas the chapters take on the question of place as it operates in more obvious settings such as architectural monuments and exhibitionary contexts while also probing the way place operates when objects move or when the very place they exist in transforms dramatically this volume engages place through the movement of objects the evocation of senses desires and memories and the on going project of articulating the parameters of place and location excerpt from a short history of the expansion of the british empire 1500 1870 this history is not a manual i e a digest of the general body of facts relative to colonial history events have been dwelt upon or passed over as they serve or do not serve to illustrate the broad underlying principles which from time to time governed british expansion a manual of information makes a bad text book for a student for the right kind of text book should aim at something beyond storing the mind with facts viz at stimulating the reader to further enquiry and at guiding him in the classification of his material and in framing conclusions about it history teaching is barren if this threefold result has not been attained further the mental discipline which history affords may be better derived from the earlier rather than the later epochs in our subject from the period of struggle and experiment rather than the age of full achievement and fruition the story of the american colonies though we lost them is in this way more instructive than the orderly progress of australia for real insight into motives and forces the elizabethan time perhaps has merits which the victorian age lacks hence i have refrained of set purpose from bringing down the narrative to the present day about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
