this book aims to understand the texture of the post soviet region where waves of de integration and re integration have been resonating at different times and through diverse manifestations over the last quarter of century the post soviet states have been evolving in an embryonic system of states in their close neighbourhood whose boundaries and rules of interactions are still in the making however one can already detect specific traits of regional governance one of these being the presence of overlapping organisations and institutions it includes reflections on relations between state formation and region formation and a tentative conceptualisation of a post colonial form of regionalism the focus on small states featuring different behaviours vis à vis regional organisations and regional imaginaries in their transitional and still unsettled state identities and foreign policy narratives constitutes a further element of originality this innovative volume is crucial reading for scholars and researchers of international relations with a special interest in either the former soviet space or comparative regionalism trials and reconciliation through a particular focus on the international criminal tribunal for the former yugoslavia icty using detailed empirical data in the form of qualitative interviews and observations from five years of fieldwork to assess and analyze the icty s impact on reconciliation in bosnia hercegovina croatia and kosovo international trials and reconciliation assessing the impact of the international criminal tribunal for the former yugoslavia argues that reconciliation is not a realistic aim for a criminal court they are janine clark argues only one part of a rich tapestry of justice which must also include non retributive transitional justice processes and mechanisms challenging many of the common yet untested assumptions about the benefits of criminal trials this innovative and extremely timely monograph will be invaluable for those with interests in the theory and practice of transitional justice
