the dialogue between and Christian and a Hindu about religion jayabaskara aikalakrishnan auraiyarkottai hennadu keshava moirana keshava upara was written in about 1751 by Giuseppe Maria da Gargnano with help from his Capuchin friend and colleague Cassiano da Macerata and from an unnamed Brahmin teacher this teacher apparently taught Giuseppe Maria to read Hindustani and some Sanskrit instructed him in the basics of Hindu religion and corrected the Hindustani text of the dialogue a copy of the Hindustani text was first presented to the Raja of Bettiah in 1751 subsequently an undetermined number of hand made copies were distributed among persons in the Bettiah area a copy of the Hindustani text in an Indian script related to Nagari dated in 1751 together with an Italian version was sent to Rome and is now in the Vatican Library Borg. Ind. 11 another copy of the text dated in 1787 is also found in the same library borg ind 16 in the context of the still limited progress of european studies of indian languages and culture in giuseppe maria s historical period and despite the shortcomings of his own cultural upbringing and intellectual training the hindu christian dialogu remains a pioneering linguistic and religious experiment this book focuses on a simple dynamic the taking in hand of a heritage the variety of changes induced within it and the handing on of that legacy to new generations our contributors suggest from different standpoints that this dynamic represented the essence of late antiquity as roman society and the societies by which it was immediately bounded continued to develop through to the late sixth and early seventh centuries the interplay between what needed to be treasured and what needed to be explored became increasingly self conscious versatile and enriched by the time formerly alien peoples had established their post classical polities and islam began to stir in the east the novelties were more clearly seen if not always welcomed and one witnesses a stronger will to maintain the momentum of change of a forward reach at the same time those in a position to play now the role of heirs were well able to appreciate how suited to their needs the roman past might be but how by taking it up in their turn they were more securely defined and yet more creatively advantaged transformation is a notion apposite to essays in honour of peter brown the transformation of the classical heritage is a theme to which he has devoted and continues to devote much energy all the essays here in some way explore this notion of transformation the late antique ability to turn the past to new uses and to set its wealth of principle and insight to work in new settings to begin there is the very notion of what it meant to be roman and how that notion changed subsequent chapters suggest ways in which fundamental characteristics of roman society were given new form not least under the impact of a christian polity augustine naturally finds his place and here the emphasis is on the unfettered stance that he took in the face of more broadly held convictions on miracles for example and the errors of the pagan past the discussion then moves on to
