Michael Jackson Moonwalker 1988 architecture s historical turn traces the hidden history of architectural phenomenology a movement that reflected a key turning point in the early phases of postmodernism and a legitimating source for those architects who first dared to confront history as an intellectual problem and not merely as a stylistic question jorge otero pailos shows how architectural phenomenology radically transformed how architects engaged theorized and produced history in the first critical intellectual account of the movement otero pailos discusses the contributions of leading members including jean labatut charles moore christian norberg schulz and kenneth frampton for architects maturing after world war ii otero pailos contends architectural history was a problem rather than a given paradoxically their awareness of modernism s historicity led some of them to search for an ahistorical experiential constant that might underpin all architectural expression they drew from phenomenology exploring the work of bachelard merleau ponty heidegger and ricoeur which they translated for architectural audiences initially the concept that experience could be a timeless architectural language provided a unifying intellectual basis for the stylistic pluralism that characterized postmodernism it helped give theory especially the theory of architectural history a new importance over practice however as otero pailos makes clear architectural phenomenologists could not accept the idea of theory as an end in itself in the mid 1980s they were caught in the contradictory and untenable position of having to formulate their own demotion of theory otero pailos reveals how ultimately the rise of architectural phenomenology played a crucial double role in the rise of postmodernism creating the antimodern specter of a historical consciousness and offering the modern notion of essential experience as the means to defeat it

BiblioTech 2015-05-05 starting as a noob and having a dream to become pro so from the title of my blog you all can guess that this is my first blog and i m have no experience in writing blogs but i do want to share something with all of you that when i was in 9th standard there was a teacher of english and he was very expert in failing students most of the time 90 of the students were failed in his subject it s not just that the children don t have skills or they write everything wrong in the answer book but the teacher used to point out silly mistakes and just mark failure sometimes we used to get only 1 2 marks in 5 marks questions it was new for all of us because we used to get 90 at least till 8th grade suddenly the declination in marks makes all of our classmates very upset some of us started skipping his class most of us started making fun of him like we use to copy his walking style some time we use to still his books that he carries with him always also some of our teacher don t like him and they said he is nothing without his bag although we all were very frustrated because of his gesture that he used to have his teaching technique was very unique and he never used white board during my whole period of study he never used any marker to explain anything on board he was the first teacher i ever knew who never used markers he used to dictate when he wanted us to write something sometimes we asked for a word again but never repeated the word in the whole period of time he never told us how to do problems we have to do things on our own and then we got wrong most of the time and he just put a cross and left the solution to do it again on our own this was ridiculous that time we somehow by practicing we got that question correct we also have to read the fiction and tell its meaning to class from 4 5 students he use to choose the correct explanation of the stanza it was quite fun because the student whose explanation is wrong was not allowed to sit till the class end but rule for girls were different he allow them to sit after a while after all his cruelty we somehow started liking him because the gap between the toppers and backbenchers was no more everyone
