written from the perspective of working men in south africa this classic explores both the banality and the extremity of apartheid as it recalls the energy of the ancestors as the author calls them showing that poetry is much more than simply an artistic pastime this collection acts as a medium for articulating feelings opinions ideas thoughts and beliefs dagbogsoptegnelser af en gruppe sowetobørn dagbogsoptegnelser af en gruppe sowetobørn includes articles annotated filmography interviews creative writing and book reviews a unique anthology containing over five decades of protest poetry years of fire and ashbrings together fifty years of south african poetry for the first time edited by young literary critic and lecturer dr wamuwi mbao the animating impulse behind this collection of old and new voices is decolonisation a term which has regained prominence over the last few years it allows us to perceive how different south african poets have placed their work in the world and how that work might relate to the struggle for radical social transformation how then does decolonization look like in the world of south african poetry this anthology is an attempt to answer that question the poems express the thoughts and experiences of poets who experienced apartheid but also of those who address current political realities this collection includes established voices as well as prominent contemporary poets in this carefully thought through anthology bole butake brings cameroonian poets of different generations gender regions backgrounds and interests into conversation not only among themselves but more especially with poets from other parts of africa and the world this is a testament on the universality of poetry it is an invitation for those in tune with poetry to reaffirm its magic and to spread the warmth of its embrace in celebration of a common and boundless humanity an anthology designed for the enjoyment and instruction of students from junior secondary school onwards the poems focus on aspects central to african life and culture lover identity death village life separation power and freedom guidance for teachers is included these essays are interventions in a cultural contestation in south africa during the seventies and eighties some of them are more general in nature and were written in the first instance as public oral interventions in debates whose outcome contributed to the founding of south africa s post apartheid society other essays are more specifically aimed at poetic practices particularly as these have been of crucial aesthetic and ultimately ethical importance in a critical phase of south africa s painful development intimate knowledge of and personal involvement in the commitment of literature to concrete political situations informs these succinct and spirited essays along with horn s measured familiarity with european traditions of political cultural and ideological thought the topics covered include the social context of south african poetry poetry and apartheid the praise singing tradition and the liberation struggle german documentary theatre and south african workers theatre the necessity of popular culture post freudian readings and feminist aesthetics censorship and society and essays on individual south african poets jeremy cronin wopko jensma abduraghiem johnstone mzwakhe mbuli mongane serote ari sitas poetry always foremost of the arts in traditional africa has continued to compete for primacy against the newer forms of prose fiction and theatre drama this wonderfully comprehensive anthology of african poetry has been expanded to include ninety nine poets from twenty seven countries thirty one of whom appear for the first time equally wide ranging is the content of the poetry itself war songs and political protests jostle with poems about human love african nature and the surprises that life offers all are represented in these rich and colourful pages postcolonial studies has taken a significant turn since 2000 from the post structural focus on language and identity of the 1980s and 1990s to more materialist and sociological approaches a key theorist in inspiring this innovative new scholarship has been pierre bourdieu bourdieu and postcolonial studies shows the emergence of this strand of postcolonialism through collecting texts that pioneered this approach by graham huggan chris bongie and sarah brouillette as well as emerging scholarship that follows the path these critics have established this bourdieu inspired work examines the institutions that structure the creation dissemination and reception of world literature the foundational values of the field and its sometimes ambivalent relationship to the popular and the ways concepts like habitus cultural capital consecration and anamnesis can be deployed in reading postcolonial texts topics include explorations of the institutions of the field such as the b b c s caribbean voices program and the south african publishing industry analysis of bourdieu s fieldwork in algeria during the decolonization era and comparisons between bourdieu s work and alternative versions of literary sociology such as pascalle casanova s and franco moretti s the sociological approach to literature developed in the collected essays shows how even if the commodification of postcolonialism threatens to neutralize the field s potential for resistance and opposition a renewed project of postcolonial critique can be built in the contaminated spaces of globalization this wonderful new edition of poems on the underground is published to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the underground in 2013 here 230 poems old and new romantic comic and sublime explore such diverse topics as love london exile families dreams war music and the seasons and feature poets from sappho to carol ann duffy and wendy cope including chaucer and shakespeare milton blake and shelley whitman
