eva a 1927 novel by dutch writer carry van bruggen is an experiment in depicting a woman's life from girlhood to marriage and beyond to sexual freedom and independence at the same time the narrative expresses eva's dawning sense of self and expanding subjectivity through a stream of consciousness told by a shifting narrator burdened all of her life by feelings of shame at the end of the novel eva overcomes this legacy of her upbringing and declares that it is bodily desire that makes love acceptable carry van bruggen's rich and varied language conveys eva's experience of the world powerful memories of an orthodox jewish childhood pervade the novel with its fluid sense of time as eva puts it i let these years slip through my fingers like a stream of dry glinting sand jane fenoulhet makes this important modernist novel accessible to english readers for the first time while it can be described as a becoming woman of both eva and her creator so can the translation be seen as the translator's own becoming as fenoulhet explains in the accompanying commentary where she also describes the challenges of translating van bruggen's dynamic intense narrative for fenoulhet translation is more a matter of personal engagement with the novel than a matter of word choice and style in this way the emotional and intellectual life of the main character is re-enacted through translation
