introducing poetry prose songs and theatre from nigeria this engaging volume blends translated extracts with a rich commentary on the historical development and modern context of this hugely creative culture examining imaginative prose writing the tale tradition popular song islamic religious poetry and modern tv drama amongst other topics this is a clear and accessible book on a literary culture that has previously been little known to the english speaking readership alhaji sir ahmadu bello the premier of the northern region of nigeria was thought by many to be the most powerful figure in nigeria the descendant of the great reformer shehu usuman dan fodio the sardauna grew up in the atmosphere of the muslim and aristocratic tradition of the fulani conquerors of northern nigeria he reached maturity in a nigeria that was rapidly advancing towards independent nationhood with political institutions deriving largely from the traditions of the christian west as leader of the northern peoples congress the majority political party in northern nigeria the sardauna became the first premier of that region in 1954 why do famines occur and how have their effects changed through time why are those who produce food so often the casualties of famines looking at the food crisis that struck the west african sahel during the 1970s michael j watts examines the relationships between famine climate and political economy through a longue durée history and a detailed village study watts argues that famines are socially produced and that the market is as fickle and incalculable as the weather droughts are natural occurrences matters of climatic change but famines expose the inner workings of society politics and markets his analysis moves from household and individual farming practices in the face of climatic variability to the incorporation of african peasants into the global circuits of capitalism in the colonial and postcolonial periods silent violence powerfully combines a case study of food crises in africa with an analysis of the way capitalism developed in northern nigeria and how peasants struggle to maintain rural livelihoods as the west african sahel confronts another food crisis and continuing food insecurity for millions of peasants silent violence speaks in a compelling way to contemporary agrarian dynamics food provisioning systems and the
