il consenso è davvero il criterio perfetto per distinguere ciò che è bene da ciò che è male nelle relazioni cosa sappiamo realmente dei nostri desideri e quanto pesa nelle nostre decisioni la società manon garcia una delle pensatrici più interessanti di questi anni ci offre una magistrale critica di uno dei concetti più usati e ambigui del nostro tempo sottile e rigoroso le monde un saggio meticoloso e provocatorio che disegna una nuova cartografia politica delle nostre vite private cercando di capire dove sia nata e come funzioni la nozione di consenso che pone domande essenziali ma troppo spesso trascurate e ci sprona a cambiare le nostre abitudini ad agire e soprattutto a rendere la parola sensuale e liberatoria perché afferma l'autrice dobbiamo erotizzare l'eguaglianza anziché il dominio solo così potremo amare meglio e più liberamente il consenso è un concetto da maneggiare con cautela ma che porta in sé la promessa di una rivoluzione sessuale che questa volta sia davvero una liberazione di tutte e tutti

in the last few decades creolisation has become a recurrent feature in the works of scholars from many disciplines serving as a useful metaphor for understanding contemporary societies in a world of globalisation more than a metaphor creolisation can be conceived as a powerful analytical and theoretical tool in order to grasp the current dynamics of intercultural encounter and conflict allowing a close look at the production of new subjectivities and identities in accordance with this viewpoint in this book creolisation processes have been investigated under the interdisciplinary gaze of a wide european research group which has tried to detect creole patterns in the fields of literature arts politics and the labour market as well as in the daily practices of people who enact peculiar strategies in order to posit themselves in highly exclusive contexts by focusing on the multiplicity of shifting borders that today articulate the sense of daily life along multiple contiguous universes this collective work addresses problems of citizenship intercultural politics and difficult cohabitations starting from the analysis of their narratives and discursive representations this volume thus has much to say about moving and mixing in our times and shows in more ways how thinking about creolist and related notions can be very fruitful this volume presents global and comparative perspectives on the perpetual pendular movement of family law between status and contract it contributes to the topical academic debate on family law exceptionalism by exploring the blurred lines between public law private law and family law and sheds light on the many shades of grey that exist the contributions focus on both substantive and procedural family law on parents and children and on life partners with particular attention for contractual arrangements of family formations and of conflict resolution the hypothesis underlying all contributions was the trend towards contractualisation of family law a convergent research outcome resulting from the comparison of national reports was the ambivalent position of family law in legal systems worldwide that comparison shows that whereas family law is clearly moving towards contract with regard to old family formations the contrary is true for new family formations the movement towards contract is rarely considered to be contractualisation pur sang with civil effect the movement towards status finally does not necessarily witness family law exceptionalism vis à vis private law in view of the increasing state interventionism in private law relations in general in sum as the volume shows the high permeability of the demarcations between the state the family and the market impedes a categorial approach this volume is based on the general and selected national reports on the topic contractualisation of family law that were presented at the sixth international congress of comparative law in vienna in july 2014

eu law in the member states is a new series dedicated to exploring the impact of landmark cjeu judgments and secondary legislation in legal systems across the european union each book will be written by a team of generalist eu lawyers and experts in the relevant field bringing together perspectives from a wide range of different member states in order to compare and analyse the effect of eu law on domestic legal systems and practice the first volume focuses on the uneasy relationship between the economic freedoms enshrined in articles 49 and 56 tfeu and the right of workers to take collective action this conflict has been at the forefront of eu labour law since the cjeu's much discussed decisions in C-438/05 Viking and C-341/05 Laval as well as the commission's more recent attempts at legislative reforms in the failed Monti II regulation Viking Laval and beyond explores judicial and legislative responses to these measures in 10 member states and finds that the impact on domestic legal systems has been much more varied than traditional accounts of eu law would suggest this collection discusses the concept of fraternity and examines the issue of its role in law since the end of world war ii fraternity has been cited in several national constitutional charters in addition to the united nations universal declaration of human rights but is there space for fraternity in law the contributions to this book form an ideal bridge between the past and present to trace the different pathways taken to address the meaning of fraternity and to identify its possible legal relevance the book lays out paths that have placed fraternity in varied and challenging legal contexts in an age of globalization and conflict where the multiplicity of national and supranational sources of law seems to show its inadequacy to govern complexity and coexistence between diversities that appear irreconcilable the purpose is not to recover fraternity as a forgotten principle but to reimagine it today to address the aim and force of law within a plurality of cultures the analysis considers a possible universal dimension that models unity within diversity and aspires to serve as a prologue to a transition from research to dialogue between different legal systems and traditions the book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of comparative law legal history and legal philosophy

Contractualisation of Family Law - Global Perspectives

this comprehensive handbook offers a thoughtful survey of contract theories issues and cases in order to reassess the field's present vision of contract law it engages a critical search for the fault lines which cross traditions of thought and globalized landscapes comparative contract law is built around four main groups of insights including the genealogies of contractual theoretical thinking the contentious relationship between private governance and normative regulations the competing styles used to stage contract law and the concurring opinions expressed within the domain of other disciplines such as literature and political theory the chapters in the book tease out the tensions between a global context and local frameworks as well as the movable thresholds between canonical expressions and heterodox constructions this book represents a first attempt to investigate the relations between law and agroecology there is a need to adopt a transdisciplinary approach to multifunctional agriculture in order to integrate the agroecological paradigm in legal regulation this does not require a super law that hierarchically purports to incorporate and supplant the existing legal fields rather it calls for the creation of a trans law that progressively works to coordinate interlegalities between different legal fields respecting their autonomy but emphasizing their common historical roots in rus in the process rus the rural phenomenon as a whole reflects the plurality and interdependence of different complex systems based jointly on the land as a central point of reference rural is more than agricultural if agriculture is understood traditionally as an activity aimed at exploiting the land for the production of material goods for use consumption and private exchange rurality marks the reintegration of agriculture into a broader sphere one that is not only economic but also social and cultural not only material but also ideal relational historical and symbolic and not only private but also public in approaching rus the natural and social sciences first became specialized multiplied and compartmentalized in a plurality of first order disciplines later they began a process of integration into agroecology as a second order multi perspective and shared research platform today agroecology is a transdiscipline that integrates other fields of knowledge into the concept of agroecosystems viewed as socio ecological systems however the law seems to still be stuck in the first stage following a reductionist approach law has deconstructed and shattered the universe of rus into countless disjointed legal elementary particles multiplying the planes of analysis and in particular keeping agricultural law and environmental law two separate fields
