2009-06-09 newspaper coverage of interethnic conflict competing visions of america examines mainstream and ethnic minority news coverage of interethnic conflicts in miami washington d c and los angeles authors hemant shah and michael c thornton investigate the role of news in racial formation the place of ethnic minority media in the public sphere and how these competing visions of america are part of ongoing social and political struggles to construct define and challenge the meanings of race and nation the authors suggest that mainstream newspapers reinforce dominant racial ideology while ethnic minority newspapers provide an important counter hegemonic view of u s

race relations the general process of racial newspaper coverage of interethnic conflict is highly recommended for students and scholars in the fields of journalism mass communications media studies cultural studies and sociology

McGraw-Hill's ACT, 2010 Edition 2008-07-01 the visual is political examines the growth of feminist photography as it unfolded in Britain during the 1970s and 1980s this period in Britain was marked by instability following the collapse of the welfare state massive unemployment race riots and workers strikes however this was also a time in which various forms of social activism emerged or solidified including the women's movement whose members increasingly turned to photography as a tool for their political activism rather than focusing on the aesthetic quality of the images produced Klorman 1994 looks at the application of feminist theory photojournalism advertising photo montage punk subculture and aesthetics and politicized street activity to emphasize the statement and challenge that the photographic language of these works posed she shows both the utilitarian uses of photography in activism but also how these same photographers went on to be accepted or co-opted into the mainstream art spaces little by little sometimes with great controversy the visual is political highlights the relevance and impact of an earlier contentious creative and politicized moment of feminism and photography as art and activism

Cassell's Illustrated Family Paper 2013-06-17 when cultural critics with such wildly divergent views as jacques barzun christopher hitchens joseph epstein dana gioia and morris dickstein all agree about the merits of one contemporary essayist shouldn't you find out why i never think except when i sit down to write attributed to montaigne by edgar allan poe from montaigne in the sixteenth century to orwell eliot and trilling in the twentieth the best literary essayists combine a gift for observation with an abiding commitment to books although it may seem that books are becoming less essential and that a revolution in sensibility is taking place the essays of arthur krystal suggest otherwise companionable without being chummy engaged without being didactic erudite without being stuffy he demonstrates that literature even in the digital age remains the truest expression of the human condition covering subjects as diverse as aphorisms dueling the night and the 1960s the essays gathered here offer the common reader uncommon pleasure in prose that is both vibrant and elegant krystal negotiates among myriad subjects from historical writing as exemplified by jacques barzun to the art of screenwriting as not so happily represented by f scott fitzgerald his cardinal rule as a writer william hazlitt s confound it man don t be insipid no fear of that except when i write is thoughtful in the most joyful sense brimming with ideas in order to give us the flow and cadence of someone actually thinking keenly observant and death on pretension krystal examines the world of books without ever losing sight of the world beyond them literature may be the bedrock on which these essays rest but as f r leavis aptly noted one cannot seriously be interested in literature and remain purely literary in interests except when i write is a reminder of both the pleasure and the power of a well tuned essay

McGraw-Hill Education ACT, 2015 Edition 2012-05-09 the birth of the modern constitution recounts the history of the united states supreme court in the momentous yet usually overlooked years between the constitutional revolution in the 1930s and warren court judicial activism in the 1950s 1941 1953 marked the emergence of legal liberalism in the divergent activist efforts of hugo black william o douglas frank murphy and wiley rutledge the stone vinson courts consolidated the revolutionary accomplishments of the new deal and affirmed the repudiation of classical legal thought but proved unable to provide a substitute for that powerful legitimating explanatory paradigm of law hence the period bracketed by the dramatic moments of 1937 and 1954 written off as a forgotten time of failure and futility was in reality the first phase of modern struggles to define the constitutional order that will dominate the twenty first century

The Term Paper: Step by Step 2021-12-07 learning to rival tells the inside story of college and high school writers learning to rival to actively seek rival hypotheses and negotiate alternative perspectives on charged questions it shows how this interdisciplinary literate practice alters with the context of use and how in learning to rival in school and out students must often negotiate conflicts not apparent to instructors this study of the rival hypothesis stance a powerful literate practice claimed by both humanities and science initially posed two questions how does the rival hypothesis stance define itself as a literate practice as we move across the boundaries of disciplines and genres of school and community how do learners crossing these boundaries interpret and use the family of literate practices especially in situations that pose problems of intercultural understanding over the course of this project with urban teenagers and minority college students the rival hypothesis stance emerged as a generative and powerful tool for intercultural inquiry posing in turn a new question how can the practice of rivaling support the difficult and essential art of intercultural interpretation in education the authors present the story of a literate practice that moves across communities as well as the stories of students who are learning to rival across the curriculum learning to rival offers an active strategic approach to multiculturalism addressing how people negotiate and use difference to solve problems in the spirit of john dewey s experimental way of knowing it presents a multifaceted approach to literacy research combining contemporary research methods to show the complexity of rivaling as a literate practice and the way it is understood and used by a variety of writers as a resource for scholars teachers and administrators in writing across the curriculum studies writing program administration service learning and community based projects as well as literacy rhetoric and composition this volume reveals how learning a new literate practice can force students to encounter and negotiate conflicts it also provides a model of an intercultural inquiry that uses difference to understand a shared problem
