this paper attempts to identify lebanon's greatest constraints to economic growth following a growth diagnosis approach it concludes that fiscal imbalances and barriers to entry are most binding on long term growth macroeconomic imbalances and related perceived risks affect the nature of investment decisions in lebanon in favor of liquid instruments rather than longer term productive investments further many barriers to entry discourage agents from investing in a number of markets legal impediments to competition corruption and a set of fiscal incentives favoring the allocation of resources to non tradable sectors where potential demand and investment opportunities are scarcer in turn using a steady state computable general equilibrium model the paper assesses the long term growth impact of a selected set of policy reforms envisaged to lift such constraints results suggest that 1 to 2 percentage points of additional gdp growth per year could be gained through public expenditure reform greater domestic competition and tax harmonization
