HKDSE Maths (M2) 2021 (M2) 12 Past Paper Solution (2021-2023) 2023-06-01 the approximately 500 bantu languages spoken across vast areas of central eastern and southern africa are united by the presence of a number of broad typological similarities including for example complex noun class system and agglutinative verbal morphology however the languages also exhibit a high degree of micro variation recent work has demonstrated fine grained morphosyntactic variation across many bantu languages focusing on grammatical topics such as double object constructions inversion constructions or object marking adopting formal comparative and typological perspectives continuing in this vein this volume builds on the momentum of the dynamic field of morphosyntactic variation in bantu and contributes to the growing body of work which examines morphosyntactic variation with a regional focus on the bantu languages of east africa the east african region is characterized by high linguistic complexity in terms of the number of languages spoken in terms of the four different linguistic phyla present and in terms of the inherent sociolinguistic dynamics the current volume explores this complexity further by bringing together studies which investigate features of morphosyntax of an individual language as well as those which develop an in depth examination of a single morphosyntactic phenomena in a small sample of languages the book seeks also to add to the descriptive status of the languages under examination as well as raising questions relating to language language contact language change and micro variation in related languages spoken in close geographic proximity possibilities are diverse some international organizations have just a few member states while others span the globe some are targeted at a specific problem while others have policy portfolios as broad as national states some are run almost entirely by their member states while others have independent courts secretariats and parliaments variation among international organizations appears as wide as that among states this book explains the design and development of international organization in the postwar period it theorizes that the basic set up of an io responds to two forces the functional impetus to tackle problems that spill beyond national borders and a desire for self rule that can dampen cooperation where transnational community is thin the book reveals both the causal power of functionalist pressures and the extent to which nationalism constrains the willingness of member states to engage in incomplete contracting the implications of postfunctionalist theory for an io s membership policy portfolio contractual specificity and authoritative competences are tested using annual data for 76 ios for 1950 2010 transformations in governance is a major academic book series from oxford university press it is designed to accommodate the impressive growth of research in comparative politics international relations public policy federalism environmental and urban studies concerned with the dispersion of authority from central states up to supranational institutions down to subnational governments and side ways to public private networks it brings together work that significantly advances our understanding of the organization causes and consequences of multilevel and complex governance the series is selective containing annually a small number of books of exceptionally high quality by leading and emerging scholars the series targets mainly single authored or co authored work but it is pluralistic in terms of disciplinary specialization research design method and geographical scope case studies as well as comparative studies historical as well as contemporary studies and studies with a national regional or international focus are all central to its aims authors use qualitative quantitative formal modeling or mixed methods a trade mark of the books is that they combine scholarly rigour with readable prose and an attractive production style the series is edited by liesbet hooghe and gary marks of the university of north carolina chapel hill and the vu amsterdam and walter mattli of the university of oxford
