this book focuses on a central success factor for family businesses maintaining the decision making ability over generations while not jeopardizing the business due to family conflict inefficient governance structures or lack of identification the authors identify that this is not as easy as the endeavor to bring two social systems together with contradicting logic family and business leads to many dangerous pitfalls this book presents outcomes of a unique research project in which family managers of eleven of the oldest and largest german family businesses at least the fourth generation met for more than three years on a regular basis and presented the essence of their family governance structures to each other and to the authors it was a joint learning journey that admits identifying twelve core questions that these families had been answering to keep up the relationship between family and business successfully over generations obviously there is no right answer to these questions the key to success is rather engaging the families in a process to find out their own answers and make them aware of the two sides being a family is different from being a business family pakistani migrant families in denmark find themselves in a specific ethno national post 9 11 environment where muslim immigrants are subjected to processes of non recognition exclusion and securitization this ethnographic study explores how why and at what costs notions of relatedness identity and belonging are being renegotiated within local families and transnational kinship networks each entry point concerns the destructive productive constitution of family life where neglected responsibilities obligations and trust lead not only to broken relationships but also and inevitably to the innovative creation of new ones by connecting the micro politics of the migrant family with the macro politics of the nation state and global conjunctures in general the book argues that securitization and suspicion launched in the name of integration escalate internal community dynamics and processes of family upheaval in unpredicted ways
