in this thesis johanna bruckner reports the discovery of the lyotropic counterpart of the thermotropic smc phase which has become famous as the only spontaneously polarized ferroelectric fluid in nature by means of polarizing optical microscopy x ray diffraction and electro optic experiments she firmly establishes aspects of the structure of the novel lyotropic liquid crystalline phase and elucidates its fascinating properties among them a pronounced polar electro optic effect analogous to the ferroelectric switching of its thermotropic counterpart the helical ground state of the mesophase raises the fundamental question of how chiral interactions are communicated across layers of more or less disordered and achiral solvent molecules which are located between adjacent bi layers of the chiral amphiphile molecules this thesis bridges an important gap between thermotropic and lyotropic liquid crystals and pioneers a new field of liquid crystal research in the face of great challenges utopian thinking is currently in vogue the fact that utopias with their ideas of an idealized target society are not compatible with the basic features of an open society was already pointed out by karl popper in his book die offene gesellschaft und ihre feinde the open society and its enemies under the impression of national socialism and stalinism in the present book further forms of closed societies and the principal similarities and differences of their construction are examined this is done by drawing on ralf dahrendorf s concept of life chances in which he deals with the interaction of options and ligatures the ambivalence of dahrendorf s understanding of ligatures since they restrict options on the one hand but also give them meaning on the other is resolved by a threefold differentiation into ethical and moral internally and externally directed and explicit and implicit ligatures while the former are capable of enabling life chances the latter tend to limit them based on this the authors elaborate on the landscape side consequences of various closed societies and how ill suited they are for dealing with current challenges
