The Yellow Wallpaper Illustrated

2019-07-03

the story details the descent of a young woman into madness her supportive though misunderstanding husband john believes it is in her best interests to go on a rest cure after experiencing symptoms of temporary nervous depression the family spends the summer at a colonial mansion that has in the narrator s words something queer about it she and her husband move into an upstairs room that she assumes was once a nursery her husband chooses for them to sleep there due to its multitude of windows which provide the air so needed in her recovery in addition to the couple john s sister jennie is present she serves as their housekeeper like most nurseries at the time the windows are barred the wallpaper has been torn and the floor is scratched the narrator attributes all these to children as most of the damage is isolated to their reach ultimately though readers are left unsure as to the source of the room's state leading them to see the ambiguities in the unreliability of the narrator the narrator devotes many journal entries to describing the wallpaper in the room its yellow smell its breakneck pattern the missing patches and the way it leaves yellow smears on the skin and clothing of anyone who touches it she describes how the longer one stays in the bedroom the more the wallpaper appears to mutate especially in the moonlight with no stimulus other than the wallpaper the pattern and designs become increasingly intriguing to the narrator she soon begins to see a figure in the design and eventually comes to believe that a woman is creeping on all fours behind the pattern believing she must try to free the woman in the wallpaper the woman begins to strip the remaining paper off the wall after many moments of tension between john and his sister the story climaxes with the final day in the house on the last day of summer she locks herself in her room to strip the remains of the wallpaper when john arrives home she refuses to unlock the door when he returns with the key he finds her creeping around the room circling the walls and touching the wallpaper she excitedly exclaims i've got out at last in spite of you and jane causing her husband to faint as she continues to circle the room creeping over his inert body each time she passes it believing herself to have become the personification of the woman trapped behind the yellow wallpaper
