the phenomena of materialisation this book describes the work and personal experience of a distinguished highly qualified researcher into this miss understood phenomenon plenty of photos and laboratory reports are included to make this subject more understandable further the area of fraud is dealt with extensively when extraordinary things are observed each eye witness account assumes importance sometimes one witness will fill a gap in his story of events that others have left out each person has his own story to tell and this is mine it is not meant to discredit or negate the observations of others other investigators had included doctors and scientists that impressed me from the beginning surgeons from baragwanath hospital johannesburg discussed their experiences nonchalantly and openly comparing events with those described by their friends anaesthetists doctors and businessmen it was plain that they were not only technically skilled men of the world but also orientated towards the esoteric sciences as well one would quote an excerpt from at the feet of the master and another would answer with a reference to the voice of the silence there was no hysteria no anxiety to impress all had participated in rather than observed materialisation seances and all held a deep respect for the phenomena that their expert hands had palpated and their trained eyes had seen and i was one of them later i had opportunities to confirm my first impressions again and again elsewhere in different parts of the globe as well as to hear the views and opinions expressed by scores of other observers and to examine carefully the evidence of their photographs and testimonies some of my own conclusions are more occult or esoteric than those of spiritualists but they are just as sincere and well intended the part played by the thousands of sitters at materialisation seances is indispensable in most instances their patient devotion made phenomena possible to them i dedicate this book the legacy of the hamiltons psychic archive in the wake of the first world war and the 1918 19 pandemic the world was left grappling with a profound sense of loss it was against this backdrop that a winnipeg couple physician t g hamilton and nurse lillian hamilton began their research documenting and photographing séances they held in their home laboratory their extensive study of the survival of human consciousness after death resulted in a stunning collection of hundreds of photographs including images of tables flying through the air mediums in trances and most curious of all ectoplasm a strange white substance through which ghosts could apparently manifest the art of ectoplasm invites readers to explore the hamiltons research and photographic evidence which has attracted international attention from scholars and artists alike notable figures like arthur conan doyle participated in the hamilton family s séances and their investigations garnered support among the psychical scientific community including renowned physicist oliver lodge the inventor of wireless telegraphy in the century since their creation the hamilton photographs now housed at the university of manitoba have continued to perplex and inspire as the subject of academic study comedic parody and artistic and cinematic renderings this fascinating collection reflects on the history and legacy of the startling and uncanny images found in the hamilton family archive as contemporary society continues to feel the effects of the covid 19 pandemic the art of ectoplasm offers a compelling look at a chapter in social history not entirely unlike our own

PHENOMENA OF MATERIALISATION 2018

this volume addresses controversies connected to the testing of the capacities and potentials of mediums today we commonly associate the term medium with the technical communication between transmitters and receivers yet this term likewise applies to those who cooperate with agencies that exceed the presumed domain of the material world insofar as one presumes a division between distinctly opposed categories of religion and the secular technical media tend to be associated with the secular and human trance mediums tend to be associated with religion after 1900 this volume concerns the ways in which the term medium still marks an overlapping of and thus problematizes the aforementioned division between religion and the secular the personal and the technological the term medium carries with it a seed of doubt that is itself inseparable from investment in the medium s power insofar as they communicate with an other realm mediums offer the hope and promise of new possibilities and improved efficiency and thus of a better life yet they have simultaneously been under suspicion of altering or even inventing the messages they communicate it is due to this combination of promise and suspicion that mediumism has tended to evoke scientific religious and moral controversies thus we can speak of a mediumistic trial that is a process in which a medium is put to the test concerning its potentials and trustworthiness around 1800 experts were asked if a modern secular institution would be capable of inspiring domesticating or excluding trance mediumship this question has stayed with us ever since and the answers have remained inconclusive that is why the past and present of mediumship may be asked to elucidate each other

this book reveals how when where and why vitalism and its relationship to new scientific theories philosophies and concepts of energy became seminal from the fin de siècle until the second world war for such modernists as sophie taeuber arp hugo ball juliette bisson eva carrière salvador dalí robert delaunay marcel duchamp edvard munch picasso yves tanguy gino severini and john cage for them vitalism entailed the conception of life as a constant process of metamorphosis impelled by the free flow of energies imaginings intuition and memories unconstrained by mechanistic materialism and chronometric imperatives to generate what the philosopher henri bergson aptly called creative evolution following the three main dimensions of vitalist modernism the first part of this book reveals how biovitalism at the fin de siècle entailed the pursuit of corporeal regeneration through absorption in raw nature wholesome environments aquatic therapies electromagnetism heliotherapy modern sports particularly rugby water sports the olympic games and physical culture to energize the human body and vitalize its life force this is illuminated by artists as geoculturally diverse as gustave caillebotte thomas eakins munch and albert gleizes the second part illuminates how simultaneously vitalism became aligned with anthroposophy esotericism magnetism occultism parapsychology spiritism theosophy and what bergson called psychic states alongside such new sciences as electromagnetism radiology and the fourth dimension as captured by such artists as juliette bisson giacomo balla albert besnard umberto boccioni eva carrière john gerrard keulemans lászló moholy nagy james tissot albert von schrenck notzing and picasso during and after the devastation of the first world war the third part explores how vitalism particularly bergson s theory of becoming became associated with dadaist neo dadaist and surrealist notions of amorality atemporality dysfunctionality entropy irrationality inversion negation and the nonsensical captured by hans arp charlie chaplin theo van doesburg kazimir malevich kurt schwitters and vladimir tatlin alongside cage s concept of nothing after investigating the widespread engagement with bergson s philosophies and vitalism and art by anarchists marxists and communists during and after the first world war it concludes with the official rejection of bergson and any form of vitalism in the soviet union under stalin this book will be of vital interest to gallery exhibition and museum curators and visitors plus readers and scholars working in art history art theory cultural studies modernist studies occult studies european art and literature health histories of science philosophy psychology sociology sport studies heritage studies museum studies and curatorship leading the reader through the darkened séance rooms and laboratories of imperial and inter war germany the stepchildren of science casts light on the emergence of psychical research and parapsychology in the german context it looks in particular at the role of the psychiatrist albert von schrenck notzing a figure who fashioned himself as both propagandist and grand seignior of german parapsychology in shaping these nascent disciplines in contrast to other recent studies in which occultism is seen as a means of dealing with or creating the modern this book considers the epistemological cultural and social issues that arose from psychical researchers and parapsychologists claims to scientific legitimacy focusing on the boundary disputes between these researchers and the spiritualists occultists psychologists and scientists with whom they competed for authority over the paranormal the stepchildren of science demonstrates that in the german context both proponents and opponents alike understood psychical research and parapsychology as border sciences this important work critically investigates the use of rating and ranking systems in higher education to show how they govern the academic population through the creation of competition and antagonism from social media to pisa and rotten tomatoes ratings and rankings exist everywhere in our daily lives seemingly benign in practice they can structure and govern important parts of society including social interaction public health and economic rankings in this essential critique author jonas thiel sets out the case against these practices using the uk s higher education model to show how tools such as the national student surveys nss instead divide the academic population to make it governable and controllable instead of achieving its intended aim of improving teaching by forcing competition over student satisfaction thiel shows that systems like the nss have a profound and often negative impact upon how people and institutions understand themselves drawing on the new materialist theory of karen barad foucault s governmentality and laclau s understanding of antagonism the book raises an urgent need to respond to these boundary drawing practices especially in light of rising inequality and ecological collapse and poses the question can we even imagine a world without top 10 rankings and out of 5 scores engaging with current debates around value tuition fees and the role of higher education in society this is fascinating reading for advanced students and academics in psychology education sociology and philosophy at once controversial and intriguing spiritualism has spread from the united states to become a global movement bringing together perspectives from within the movement and without this unique collection treats readers to insights about spiritualism s history belief and practice based on the belief that the dead can communicate with the living through mediums spiritualism touches concepts as timelessly fascinating as human mortality and the continuing existence of the soul beyond bodily death this comprehensive work will help readers parse the mysteries of this uniquely american religion through three thematically organized volumes spiritualism in the u s and globally evidence and beliefs and cultural and social issues drawing on fields as diverse as psychology sociology religious studies anthropology history ethnic and gender studies literature and art this broad based collection frames spiritualism through the views of a team of international scholars among the many things that separate spiritualism from mainstream religions is the involvement of women in central leadership roles such cultural and political elements of the movement are one aspect of this study of equal interest to believers and skeptics alike will be the work of scholars who have devoted themselves to examining the claim that communication through mediums proves the existence of life after death it would have been impossible for epes sargent to write a bad or valueless book his careful treatment his vast range of reading and his keen power of analysis were sufficient to guarantee valuable results when he undertook to deal with any of the psychical problems that were vexing the public mind it has always seemed to me however that the proof palpable is the least satisfactory of his three works and that for reasons which it was impossible for the author to control as well as from some defects in the handling of a very difficult subject for at the time when the book was compiled the subject was not ripe for treatment it was occupying public attention in a marked manner but it was beset with difficulties on every side and the methods of investigation were lax to a reprehensible degree the various experiments of mr crookes with florence cook of dr wolfe with mrs hollis of colonel olcott with the eddy brothers and of various observers with mrs andrews of moravia to say nothing of the still earlier and more completely satisfactory records of mr livermore to which i have already referred had aroused and excited public attention but a rank crop of fraudulent imitations soon sprung up and a subject inherently mysterious and occult was discredited by obvious chicanery and palpable fraud in the midst of this mass of imposture credulity and ill balanced enthusiasm when conclusions the most tremendous were drawn from evidence insufficient to satisfy a jury in a case of petty larceny the facts were overshadowed and lost to sight at the very time when the book was ready for publication it became necessary to defer its issue in consequence of mr dale owen s withdrawal of his published testimony to the materialization phenomena which he had witnessed in philadelphia dr h t child who had the most intimate knowledge of the holmeses publicly threw them over the philadelphia katie king was widely believed to be a discredited fraud even after general lippitt and colonel olcott had to some extent rehabilitated her it was therefore an unfortunate time to select for the exposition of evidence which was just then tarnished and for the presentation of theories at best but hastily framed to account for phenomena which had as yet been imperfectly observed and then only under extremely unsatisfactory conditions nor can i think that the inherent difficulties of the subject complicated as they were by accidents of the passing hour were successfully met by the volume valuable as it unquestionably is which at last saw the light its very name seems scarcely happy for surely the presentation even under unimpeachable conditions of any number of forms images eidola or whatever name best fits these counterfeit presentments of humanity is no proof palpable of immortality it may be that evidence is given of the building up of a human form by a process of materialisation but how does that prove anybody s immortality it may be that from the body of the medium a vaporous cloud has been seen in rare cases to issue condense and assume a material human form but he would be a rash man who would undertake to say what that new form may be whether it possesses any separate individuality and if so of what nature whether it is the double of the medium as some maintain a too clever elementary as others allege or a departed human spirit temporarily revisiting the earth on which it once existed the psychological review volume 4
