a resolution to the vexed problem whether a troubadour's love is erotic or spiritual is offered by paolo cherchi through a new reading of andreas capellanus de amore written around 1186 1196 he suggests that andreas using a rhetorical strategy that creates ambiguity condemns courtly love because its claim that passion generates virtue is untenable and deceitful although andreas grasped the core of the courtly love system namely the relation between passion and ethics he failed to consider the notion of mezuza that courtly virtue through which troubadours transformed nature into culture and erotic passion into social discourse cherchi offers an innovative interpretation and a close reading of selected poems he traces the history of provençal lyric poetry highlighting some of the significant personalities and movements
