this book is about the nuances of college life as viewed from a christian perspective dr martin came to the conclusion that the quest for human knowledge is endless in its own seductive way our educational bastions are an arms length from the church yet it appears the church is being neglected by many who labor in the halls of academics by their lack of participation in church it is durable and manageable for one to participate in both the educational process and the church however these individuals are becoming a rare breed and that is why dr martin challenges the educator to return to his/her spiritual roots dr martin asserts spiritual values are a reality and to be negligent here is without excuse darkness is real and it is showing up in people's lives in ways that are meant to instill fear, worry, and concern, but darkness is not to be feared, most especially when one understands that the light of God is a power that can destroy dark forces that are ultimately trying to keep one from knowing and harnessing this power. God's power, which everyone has access to, is what darkness hopes to keep from being realized because when this true knowledge is exercised and put into action, it leads to darkness's demise. The smell of death was in the air again, marking the beginning of the author's remarkable journey to the realization of how dark forces can work in one's life. Her stories, along with others, compelling renditions bring awareness to some of darkness's devious tactics, which are designed to keep one unhinged and distracted. These tactics, though, are no match to the light of God, authenticated in the author's story, which sheds light on a subject that darkness would prefer to keep under wraps. Incomparable light shows that darkness pales in comparison and that the secret to happiness is right here and that it is in the light, and this light is a light that is truly beyond compare.

Every Color of Light 2020-04-07
