101 Ways to Invest in Yourself and Transform Your Life

2021-04-23

in prehistoric times man s primary quest like every other animal s was to simply survive and thrive in a world that had many hostile elements and competing species like every other living thing we simply wanted to live on our terms but then ancient men started to live in communities and societies that rewarded the bravest and strongest of men the superior hunter could provide more food for his family weaker hunters lived on the scraps of braver men and that began the unending quest and competition for success that exists till today today beyond survival every man on planet earth wants to be successful and happy that is why we do every single thing we do we put our kids in school to gain an education that can put them a yard ahead of every other person around them we get up every morning to take another shot at that boring work because we are after success you work hard as you do because you have goals to meet these goals could be long term like earning a managerial role or as short term as earning your next wage to settle bills my point is that everything we do is an attempt to be successful at the goals we have set the only other thing we chase as much as success is happiness and stability for these two things we are all willing to go the extra mile yet despite our best efforts life seems to have its own formula for sharing success and happiness among us for every thomas edison there are millions of people with great ideas that will never be translated into an invention for every bill gates there are many people out there struggling to find their feet and live a life of contentment for every cristiano ronaldo beyoncé adele or elon musk there are countless others who consistently fail to achieve their goals they are forever stuck in mediocrity and the monotony of failure what do cristiano ronaldo beyoncé and muhammed ali possess in common that the average man on the street lacks what is the secret behind their repeated success when every other tom and harry can barely meet his weekly target the answer lies in the mindset that these winners have developed yes with the right mindset and lifestyle choices you can finally cut down the odds in your favor you can finally choose what happens to you when you have the right mindset and habits self improvement is the bedrock of the mentality of winners they are constantly on the lookout for ways to be better at what they already do every day they take a little step but they take that step in the right direction always so they start each new day on an improved note and that s what i need you to do your transformation relies on three main pillars building the right mindset choosing the right goals and developing routines and habits that can get you to your goals that is what the eight chapters in this book are built around the right mindset is the vehicle for your goals choosing the right goals is a key factor and i will show you habit management hacks that will change the way you approach your work and day i have a promise to make at the end of this book i am 110 sure that you will be ready to transform and take back control of your life i promise to provide the knowledge you need to do that however you must make a promise to me to act upon the knowledge contained in this book as pablo picasso said action is the foundational element of success you need to act are you ready to embark on the most important journey of your life so far turn to the next chapter and start investing in your strengths now good luck
